

MERCURY

1932

The Class of 1932 sincerely dedicates

The Mercury

to

Roland H. Kinder

High School Master

Wakefield, Massachusetts

Back Row: G. Wengen, D. Huff, K. Worthen, J. O'Keefe, L. Shea
 Second Row: E. D'Ambrosio, J. Confalone, M. Fitz, W. Bliss, K. Tuttle, W. Erikson, E. Daland, R. Dodge, M. Messer
 Front Row: M. Beebe, A. Smith, E. Glover, B. Packard, J. Wheeler, M. Howe, B. Sheldon, M. Granese, M. Brandt

Year Book Staff

Editor-in-Chief

JEAN B. WHEELER

Literary Editors

ALSON SMITH
MARCUS BEEBE
ELEANOR GLOVER
BEATRICE PACKARD
BARBARA SHELDON
MIRIAM BRANDT
MARY GRANESE
MADELINE HOWE

Assistant Editors

RUTH DODGE
MARJORIE MESSER
EMANUEL D'AMBROSIO
ALFRED Ghibellini
JOHN CONFALONE
DONALD HUFF
KENNETH WORTHEN
LLOYD SHEA
ELEANOR DALAND

Faculty Adviser

MISS BERNICE CASWELL

Business Manager

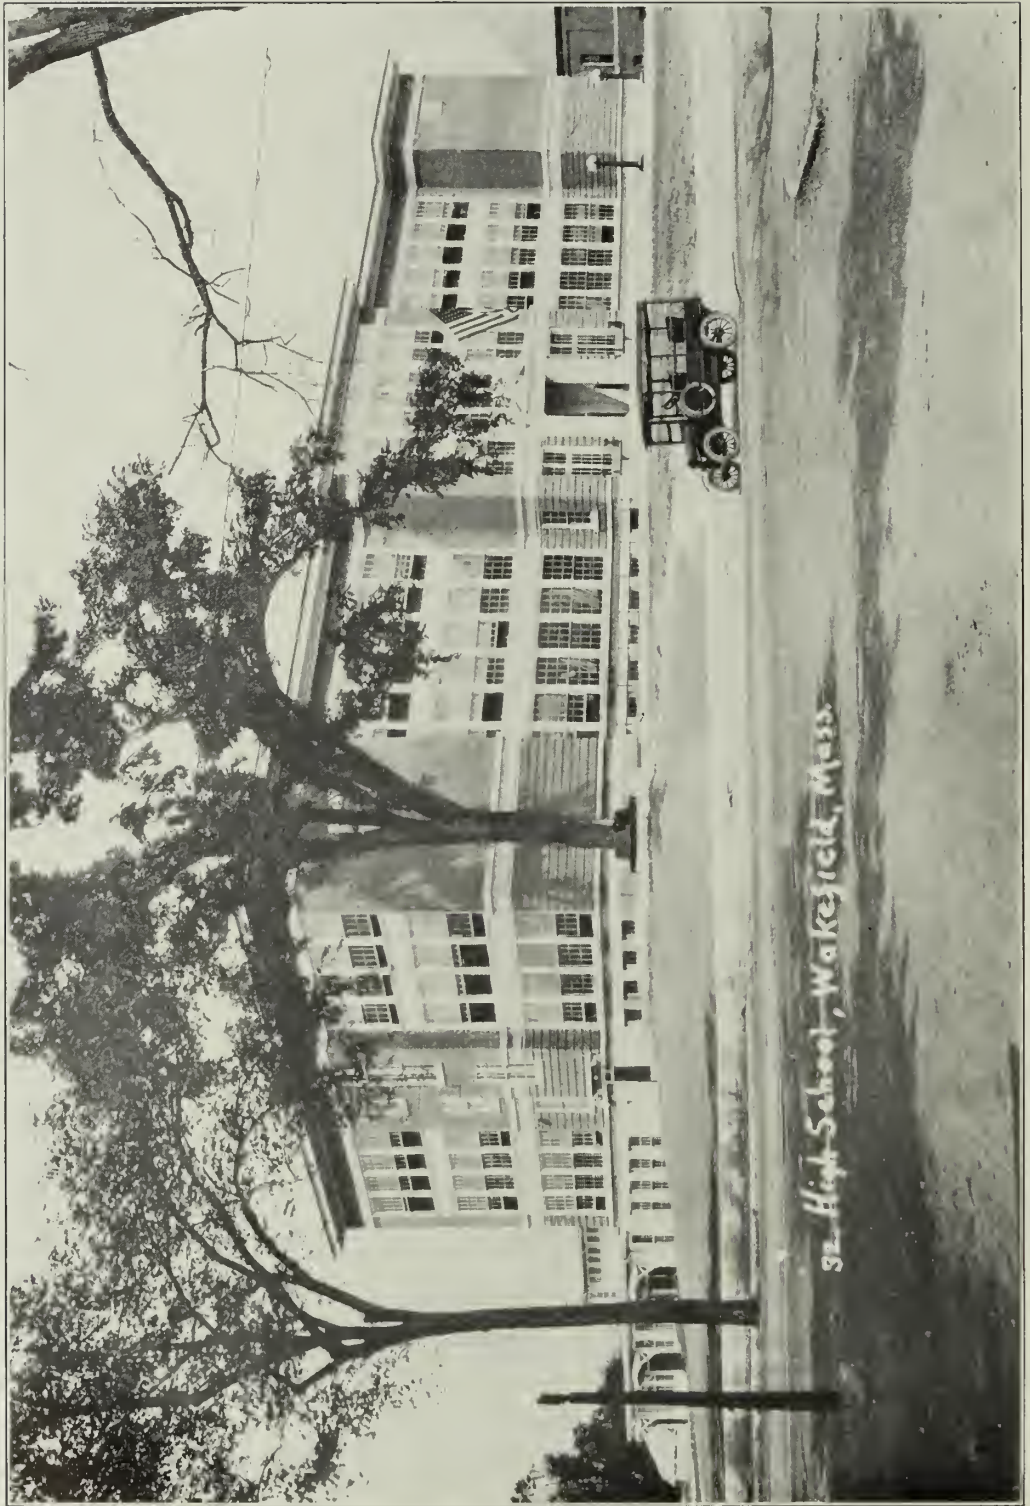

JAMES O'KEEFE

Assistant Manager

WILHELM ERIKSON

Faculty Adviser

MR. RAYMOND DOWER

322 High School, Wakefield, Mass.

CLASS SONG

by

Marjorie Wellman, '32

ALMA MATER

Thou hast not tall or stately spires
Ascending toward the skies;
No sculptor's work of art is here,
Or round about thee lies.
Yet Wakefield High, thou art to us
A great and sacred shrine;
We'll keep within our memories
These dear old walls of thine.

We know not what the future holds
Of gladness, wealth, or pain;
But wisdom learned within thy halls
With us long will remain.
The friendships of these happy years
We'll keep where'er we go;
And always praise thee, School of Ours—
Thy vision made us grow.

Chorus:

We'll honor thee as on we go
Through paths that lie ahead;
And by our loyal, upright lives
Thy faithful teachings spread.
In foreign lands—on distant seas—
We may our fortunes try;
It matters not where'er we roam,
We'll love thee, Wakefield High.

MARJORIE LEE ALLMAN

Marjorie hails from the wooded section called Greenwood. Robin Hood enjoyed bows and arrows; Marjorie enjoys shooting with a disarming smile. Are there not members of the faculty who are grateful for it, Marjorie? She is going to pursue her artistic abilities in future years at Massachusetts Normal Art.

MAYBELLE ANDERSON

Maybelle Anderson is one of the best-natured, and most popular girls in our class of '32. She is one of our prominent musicians. Nobody can "tickle the keys" like "Bo". We fear the orchestra would be lost without her. We expect you to be as successful in your career at B. U. as in W. H. S. Maybelle says, "There are drums in my heart"!

RUTH ASSENZA

Ruth has been an active participant in sports throughout her four years in high school. She has been active in hockey, basketball, track, baseball, tennis, and bowling. Ruth was a winner in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. She received her early training at the Lincoln School and is planning to enter the Old Colony Trust Secretarial School.

WILLARD B. ATWELL, JR.

"Bill" Atwell, the son of our Superintendent of Schools, came to the High School from the Warren School. For the first two years we didn't hear much from "Bill," but during the last two years he has made up for lost time. He has been a member of the football, the basketball, and the track teams, besides being an active member of the Hi-Y Club. In the battalion he has reached the office of captain. He also has won a place on the rifle team for four years. "Bill" is undecided as to what he will do in the future.

BARTHOLOMEW BARRY

"Bert" Barry began his education at the Franklin School. During his entire high school career, he has been an outstanding baseball player. He has starred in hockey, interclass basketball, and soccer. While a Freshman, "Bert" was the treasurer of the Ancient History Club and a member of the W. H. S. Battalion. He also played an important part in making the Junior prom a success. According to present indications, "Bert" intends to go to college. We're for you, "Bert."

MARCUS GILBERT BEEBE

Graduation Speaker

"Beeb" came to us from the Hurd Grammar School. He has played an important part in high school activities. In his Freshman year, he played basketball, and, in the following three years, he was a member of the varsity squad, of the Hi-Y Club, and of the Student Council. In his Sophomore year, "Beeb" was vice-president of his class, and in his Senior year, he was an assistant-editor of the Year Book staff. Marcus intends to go to Amherst College after graduating.

ELNAH BEYEA

"Ellie" came to Wakefield High School from the Lincoln School. She was a member of the Civics Club in her Freshman year. She was also active in her divisional English Clubs for three years. Remember that a smile will carry you a long way in office work, "Ellie."

VERA BLAISDELL

Vera's rather quiet, but have you ever heard her play the piano? You ought to! She played at "Henry's Wedding" and in several orchestras this year. She also was a member of her Freshman hockey team. Vera has taken a very active part in English clubs, serving as treasurer and vice-president. She entered high school from the Warren School, and is planning to enter Burdett. "Bon Voyage", Vera.

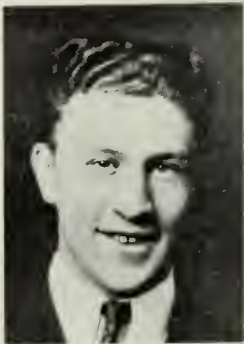

WILLIAM BLISS

President

"Bill" came way from Rhode Island to enjoy the facilities of Wakefield High School. One of our most popular boys, he is president of the Senior Class and vice-president of the Hi-Y Club. "Bill" has always been an example of school spirit. He led the cheering during the football season and is a captain this year in the battalion. "Bill" is a good sport and well-liked by both students and teachers.

ZENAS WORDSWORTH BLISS

"Zipper" is, as we all know, a friend to everyone. He came from Wickford, Rhode Island, and joined our Freshman class. "Zipper" likes sports. He has played varsity football for the last three years, and in the gym we find him on the first team of basketball. He is planning to go to college. We all hope that he makes good, not only in his sports, but in his studies.

IGNAZIO N. BONFANTI

"Iggy" Bonfanti, a very popular senior, was a member of the football squad during his second and third years. In his Senior year he was appointed football manager. He has been an active member of the Hi-Y Club, and he has also served on the Reception Committee. Ignazio is undecided about his future Alma Mater, but whatever it is, he will be successful.

RUTH L. BOUDREAU

Ruth L. Boudreau attended the Lafayette School before entering high school and is now planning to attend the New England Conservatory of Music. "Ruthie" has been very active in the school affairs, especially in hockey, the Junior Prom Committee, Senior Party Committee, and the W. H. S. orchestra. May your future be like your music—without any discord!

MIRIAM BRANDT

"Mim" has been our champion cello player from Greenwood. However, she has been rather bashful in showing her talent to us. She has been a member of the Inter Nos Club for four years. In her Junior year, she was on the Booster Staff. This year she has been on the Reception and Year Book Committees. Get "Mim" to tell you about the time she sat down on her cello and all but ruined it. As to the future, "Mim" is in doubt whether or not to attend art school. Here's a chance to express your views, "Mim."

STEPHEN JOSEPH BRENAN

Stephen Brenan, whose friends know him as "Etienne," attended the Lincoln School before beginning his high school career. He was a member of the high school battalion during his first two years and also played in the high school orchestra. Stephen was appointed a member of the 1932 Reception Committee. He plans to enter Boston College in the Fall.

MILDRED F. BROWN

What "Milly" lacks in stature is offset by her congenial nature. She personifies boundless energy, versatility, and almost perpetual motion. Her support in the various activities in which she is engaged is always whole-hearted. As a member of the Junior Prom Committee, the Inter Nos Club, and the English Club, she has proved her executive ability.

JOHN B. BUCKLE

John B. Buckle, popularly nicknamed "Ben," first learned to read and write at the Warren School. Since his entrance into our glorious Alma Mater, "Ben" has created an enviable record. He has been an important member of the football and track teams for the past three years. Moreover, he has participated in the activities of the Hi-Y Club, and during his Senior year was president of that organization. "Ben" played a leading part in the successful Senior Play. "Ben" plans to enter Springfield College after he is graduated from the Wakefield High School. We know that you will continue your good work, laddie!

CHARLES C. BUTLER

Charles came from the Warren School and plans to enter Boston College next year. It is seldom that you see "Brud" when he hasn't a broad grin on his face. Among the sports he has participated in are track, soccer, and interclass basketball. He has been a member of the R. O. T. C. and the Senior Class History Committee.

ELIZABETH ANN CALLBECK

Elizabeth Ann Callbeck, known to many as "Beth," came to Wakefield High School from the Greenwood Grammar School and intends to further her education at a business college. During her four years with us, she has participated in many activities, the most important of which are the Masque Club, the Inter Nos Club, and the Senior Play. Be as loyal to your business as you have been to your friends, "Beth", and success will follow you always.

MURIEL D. CAMERON

Muriel formerly attended the Lincoln School. She has been treasurer of the Ancient History Club and a member of the Inter Nos Club. Muriel is ambitious and courageous too—we know, don't we, Muriel? Last summer she successfully completed a course in Latin at the Harvard Summer School. She has no definitely decided plans for the future, although she has been considering Smith College.

ELIZABETH BELVIDERA CHARTIER

"Libby" is a very popular girl around school. She went to the Warren School. In high school she has belonged to the Inter Nos Club for four years and has been active in her English Clubs the last three years. In her Senior year, she was an usher at the Senior Play and served on the Class Prophecy Committee. "Libby" plans to further her education, but is undecided as to what college she will attend.

LETTY CHRISTIE

Letty Christie, appropriately nicknamed "Dolly", has been one of the silent members of our class, but we've found out that after she is graduated she expects to work. We wish you all the luck in the world in securing a position, "Dolly."

ALICE L. CLARK

In the four years that "Babe" has been in high school, she has been a member of the basketball squad, the hockey and the tennis teams. In her Freshman year she was a representative in the Student Council; in her Senior year she was a member of the Senior Party Committee. She has made many friends because of her jovial, happy-go-lucky disposition.

DOROTHY BEATRICE CLARK

Dorothy Clark, alias "Dot", is a well-known girl. She came from the Hurd School and has been an Inter Nos Club member for three years; she was an active member of her English Clubs. In her Senior year, she served on the Class Prophecy Committee. Dorothy intends to go to Abbot Academy and then to Wellesley College.

JOYCE CLEMONS

Joyce is one of those persons you can't help liking. That sunny disposition and smile came with her from the Warren School, and she hasn't lost either since. She was in the Inter Nos Club for three years, was vice-president of the Glee Club, and joined the Masque Club in 1928. Here's to you, Joyce! May you be successful at Miss Wheelock's Kindergarten School next year.

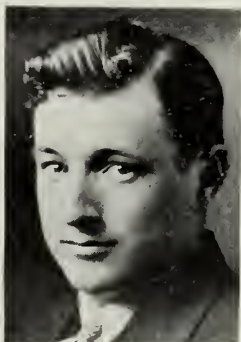

ELEANOR COLLINS

Eleanor Collins is a "brick." She favors everyone with her happy grin and usually has a "life saver" for any hungry friend. "Nola" has played on the hockey team and has been a member of the Glee Club and the Inter Nos Club. She has become interested in leather work, lately, and plans to attend the School of Handicrafts in Cambridge. Here's good luck to a good sport—"Nola" Collins!

JOHN CONFALONE

John Confalone, one of the honor students of our Senior Class, came from the Woodville Grammar School. This year he was the treasurer of the "Elite Club," a Senior English Club. John, a member of the Junior Prom Committee, was partly responsible for the success of this event. Besides being a perfect gentleman, John is very popular with his classmates. He hopes to attend The Bentley School of Accounting to become a C. P. A. Congratulations, John.

WARREN W. COOKE

"Cookie" came to our Alma Mater from the Lincoln Grammar School. He has been proficient in the art of woodwork, and he hopes to continue his good work at Wentworth next Fall. No doubt his steady perseverance will carry him to the peak of success.

CATHERINE E. COTTER

"Haddi" is a good sort of happy-go-lucky student, with a pleasing personality and a cheerful disposition. Catherine has a great weakness for music. If she can hum her way through life as she did through school, she will soon be sitting on top of the world.

JAMES ANDREW COTTER

Sensible, humorous, and well-liked is James Cotter. A graduate of the Lincoln School, "Jim" is of the opinion that success is reached only by constant struggle. Toward "Jim" the fair sex invariably shows its weakness, but manfully, he remains at a distance. Best of luck at Wentworth, "Jim"!

MIRIAM CRISP

"Mim" is a fairly new member of our class, having come from St. Martins, New Brunswick, two years ago. Though very quiet and reserved, she has a likable personality and is a true friend. This year she has been a member of the Class Prophecy Committee and the "Elite" Club. Next year will find her enrolled in Fisher Business College, where we know she will have an enviable record.

SAMUEL PIKE CROSBY

The Warren School claims "Sam" Crosby, popular, good-natured, and unexcelled in the art of gastronomy. His good sportsmanship is shown by his well-known success on the football team. Although "Sam" was not a star in his studies, his jolly manner got him "by." Going to Massachusetts Nautical School, "Sam" is assured of an adventurous future and, no doubt, he will make an ardent globe-trotter.

ROBERT H. CURLEY

"Bob" is one of the most popular fellows in school. He makes friends easily, and everyone likes him. We wonder why he goes home at all, because he takes part in so many sports. He was chosen as a member of the all-scholastic football team for two years. "Bob" undoubtedly will be one of the outstanding players on the Holy Cross College gridiron in years to come.

DOROTHY B. CURTIS

"Dot" is a very conscientious girl and a hard worker. Whatever she attempts, she always accomplishes. "Dot" has always been an outstanding member of English clubs. She is still undecided about her future.

ELEANOR O. DALAND

"EI" was graduated from the Hurd School. Her heaven on earth is either the gym or the sports' field. She was captain of her Sophomore baseball team and the Senior basketball team. She's out for every sport going, including tennis, hockey, and track. New Hampshire University has her application for next year. Everyone who knows her agrees she's a peach of a girl.

EMANUEL D'AMBROSIO

"Mike" has been a great help to his class by serving on the Banquet, Prophecy and Year Book committees this year. During his four years, he has been in the orchestra, the band, the Glee Club, and the Hi-Y Club. By being on the honor roll, he has proved that he will very likely succeed in becoming the "business man" he wishes to be.

EDITH LOUISE DEAN

The Lafayette School sent "Edie" to us four years ago. Since then she has distinguished herself by her cheerfulness and ready smile. Always willing to work, she has been an active member of the Inter Nos Club. "Edie" doesn't know just what she will do in the future, but we know she will find many friends wherever she goes.

STANLEY S. DEARBORN

During his years in Wakefield High School, "Stan" has led a rather remarkable existence. His peak of success was reached when he triumphed over many eloquent opponents in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. During his Senior year, he was captain of the prize winning company, D. "Stan" is going to a military academy and eventually will offer his services to Uncle Sam.

MARY PAULINE DeFELICE

"Mamie" is a living example of "never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you." Quiet? Yes, but this is not the whole story. She is another one of those deceiving women. From a clue here and there, we find she's a loyal friend to have. We have every reason to believe that we'll be proud of "Mamie", for she's ambitious and earnest.

DAVID T. DELLINGER

"Dave" has been an ardent and successful athlete, but he excels in track. His specialty is the mile, but he proved his ability as a long distance runner by winning first place at the Harvard Inter-scholastic Cross-country Meet last fall over a field of one hundred eighty. "Dave" is, above all, a good sportsman and will be most valuable to Yale. He displayed his dramatic ability when he played the masculine lead in the Senior Play, and when he won a prize in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest.

EDWARD DINAN

A quiet and good-natured fellow, "Nugget" came to Wakefield High after having attended the Warren School. He is now preparing to enter Boston College. Edward has been very active in athletic squads, among which are baseball, football, and track. "Nugget" was also a member of the Class Will Committee. Here's hoping you make good in your college career, Edward!

JOHN THOMAS DINAN

"Jo" Dinan entered the High School from the Warren School. As a Freshman, he was a member of the high school battalion and the Ancient History Club. During his first three years, "Jo" participated in track and inter-class basketball. In his Senior year he won a first prize in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. He intends to enter college in the fall. Here's hoping you make good, "Jo"!

RUTH DODGE

Ruth Dodge, known to us as "Dodgie", entered our class from the Greenwood Grammar School. "Dodgie" has taken part in the activities of the Debating Club, the English program committee, field hockey, and bowling. Your plans for the future are still dim, but may success be yours in whatever profession you choose, "Dodgie."

DOROTHY DOUCETTE

"Dot" also adds her name to the list of "tiny tots." Being small did not stop her from taking part in several sports. Her winning smile has carried her through school, and we are sure it will help her in her business career.

DONALD KAY DULEY

Although "Don's" spare moments have been occupied with frequent "moose" calls, his most important activity is track. During his Sophomore year he went out for interclass track, and during the last two years he has been doing excellent work as a sprinter. The future holds great things for steady pluggers like "Don."

DOROTHY MARIE EASTMAN

"Dot" Eastman has been active in many of the clubs here at school and was appointed a member of the Class Gift Committee. Cheer up, "Dot," they don't have history at Burdett College.

MAXWELL A. EATON

"Taxie's" small stature doesn't keep him from holding his own in various activities. He was an active member of both the rifle team and the tennis team. His ability in oral work was a pleasant surprise to most of us when he ably rendered a selection in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. This quality was also brought out when he played in the Hi-Y play, "Tweedles." Here's luck to "Taxie" at Browne and Nichols Preparatory School.

DOROTHY ECKERT

"Dotty" is always willing to do her part. She gave a good account of herself in a recent debate in room 301. Whatever you decide to do, "Dotty", we know you will make good.

JOSEPH THOMAS EGAN

Beware of a "Cyclone" that shoots! Tom was on the rifle team for three years. He attended the oldest school in town for four years, but that does not mean that Tom is a "back number." Undoubtedly he will be a success at the technical school which he plans to attend.

WILHELM ERIKSON

One of the best-known of the class of '32 is Wilhelm Erikson, popularly called "Eric." Baseball and the Glee Club have claimed most of his time since he came to W. H. S., but it is rumored that he has caused many feminine hearts to flutter. Success comes to the persevering, "Eric"!

WARREN FARWELL

Warren Farwell, nicknamed "Mosey" by his friendly enemies, came to Wakefield High from Montrose. He has belonged to the Glee Club for four years, taking part in the concerts and operetta. He is seldom without his harmonica, which he plays surprisingly well.

MARIO FERRARA

"Murrie", a faithful and conscientious lad, has been on the honor roll frequently. During his Sophomore year, he served on the Class Motto Committee. He was also a member of the interclass championship basketball team in his Junior year. At present, he plans to enter Tufts College. His many friends know that his future will be successful.

CARRIE E. FINDLAY

"Ki" is a popular member of her class. In her Junior year she was treasurer of the class, secretary of her English club, and a member of the Junior Prom Committee. She has also been active on the hockey and the baseball teams. We think your vacation last summer was too much for you, "Ki," because you haven't been out for sports this year.

ANNA MARIE FINN

"Finnan" is another one of our red-heads, but did you ever see her without "Haddi"? She is well-known in all the Girls' Athletic circles, though she was rather shy at first. "Finnan" is known for playing the game straight. We know you'll be a success in the business world with that motto. Good work, Anna!

MARGARET FITZ

Secretary

"Miggie" came from the Warren School. President of the Inter Nos Club and a member of various athletic teams, she has been an active and popular member of our class for four years. Her laugh is said to give many young swains a case of "Fitz." If she is as successful at Wellesley College as she has been here, her future will be a happy one. Later, "Miggie" hopes to enter John Hopkins University to obtain an M. D.

ERNEST J. FLANNIGAN

Ernest is one of those strong men in the uniform the girls admire. Though he is quiet, he is always a pleasant companion and a cheerful friend. He has been active in the battalion throughout his four years of high school, and this year he attained the rank of First Lieutenant. So you're going to New Hampton Preparatory School and Harvard, Ernest—look out for the women with that uniform!

ALISON FOSSETT

Alison, alias "Al," has taken part in a number of activities relating mostly to the Hi-Y Club. He became a member last year and was elected treasurer this year. Alison has always been a bright scholar since his training in Greenwood Grammar School. "Al" seems to be a quiet but very likable chap.

MARY DOWNING FOSTER

Mary Downing Foster is a well-liked girl around school. She came from the Hurd Grammar School. In her Freshman year she starred in hockey, basketball, track, and tennis. She has been very popular in the art division during her four years. Mary plans to enter prep school in the Fall, and then to attend The Vesper George School of Art.

RENA MAE FULLER

Quiet and unassuming, Rena has a smile which most folks find entrancing. She received her early training (in smiling?) at the Montrose School. At present she is still undecided as to her future plans. Perhaps we could help you select a profession, Rena. We aim to please.

JEANNETTE GARDNER

Brown-eyed "Janet" came to us from the Warren and Lafayette schools. She participated in basketball and track during her four years. "Janet" was exceedingly devoted to "football", although she was only an interested spectator. She is a very active Senior and deserves her well-merited popularity. "Janet" plans to go to college in the fall. Congratulations, lassie!

DOROTHY RUTH GATES

"Dot" Gates came from the Greenwood Grammar School and has been popular during her four years at Wakefield High. She has been an Inter Nos Club girl all four years and a prominent member of her Junior and Senior English Clubs. "Dot" plans to go to Lasell Seminary and then to Simmons College.

ROGER GERRY

The doings of "Rudy" Gerry and his Sad Syncopators have become a by word at W. H. S. this year. "Rudy" leads the orchestra and imitates the latest crooners on the slightest provocation. He was in the Senior Play cast this year and in the Junior Prom entertainment last year. "Rudy" is good-natured and well-liked by all his classmates.

LILLIAN FRANCIS GILL

"Lill" has been one of the most popular girls of the class. She was a faithful member of the Inter Nos, English, and Girls' Glee Clubs. During her Sophomore year, she was elected secretary of the Masque Club. The next year "Lill" was elected secretary of the Junior class. She has decided to attend Marycliff Academy.

THELMA LOUISE GILL

"Thelmie" entered the High School from the Greenwood Grammar School. She served three years as a member of the office corps and at the information desk. As a sophomore, she assisted in the Library and was appointed to the Class Motto Committee. She was active in both the Glee Club and Inter Nos Club work in her Junior year. She plans to enter Normal School.

ELEANOR GLOVER

Salutatorian

Eleanor brought her ability in athletics and in studies from the Warren School. During her four years at W. H. S., she has been an active member and officer of the Inter Nos Club and a guard on the basketball team. Last fall, she was a member of the Senior Play cast. Eleanor won the distinction of being Salutatorian of our class. In September, she is going to Bates College.

WILLIAM A. GRADY

"Bill" was a member of the R. O. T. C. in his Freshman and Sophomore years. He also played on the inter-class baseball team. If you see "Bill" driving one of "Charlie" Doyle's trucks, don't think that he is skipping school, for "Bill" is only earning money in his spare time. He is planning to attend Northeastern University.

MARY A. GRANESE

Valedictorian

Mary, a graduate of the Franklin School, has been a popular and very successful student. She has been a member of the Inter Nos Club, the Year Book staff, the Reception Committee, and the girls' tennis team, as well as being an honor student during her four years. We are all proud to greet her as the valedictorian of our class. Mary is worthy of the honor bestowed upon her. Both quality and quantity are outstanding attributes of her character. She will undoubtedly be seen on the campus of Radcliffe College next fall.

HELEN E. GREANY

If a person were to meet "Sis" for the first time, he would receive the impression that she is a quiet girl. That opinion soon disappears as one becomes better acquainted with her. It will then be found that she is a jovial and a loyal companion.

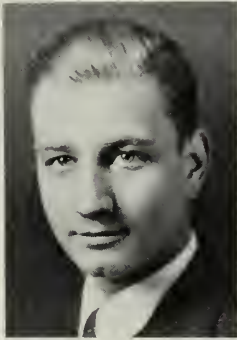

RUTH L. GRIFFIN

"Ruthie" is our sporting member. She has been the captain of the girls' basketball team and has also been seen on the hockey field. Whether dashing over grass will help her in future years, we do not know. She has proved herself capable in her school activities and various entertainment committees, and we feel sure that she will reach the top of the ladder. Inter Nos Club, Glee Club, and English Club are a few of her many activities.

MARY PEABODY GRIFFITHS

Mary is known throughout the school as a class cut-up. She came from the Hurd School and has been very popular during her four years in high school. She has been an Inter Nos Club girl for all four years. During her Senior year, she had a humorous part in the Senior play and also served on the Class Gift Committee. She is preparing to enter Vesper George School of Art next fall.

JOSEPH HOWARD GUINTA

"Joe" has been one of the leading violinists of the Wakefield High School. He has been a member of the orchestra for four years. During his Freshman and Sophomore years, he was a member of the rifle team. He has decided to attend a medical school. When "Joe" comes around with his black bag and little pink pills, it will be difficult to think of him as a doctor.

ROSE GUTTADAURO

Rose, a pretty and conscientious girl, is a faithful student of the commercial course. For three years she has been an active member of her English Clubs. Her business efficiency will be a help in her future career.

WILLIAM A. HAMPTON

"Art" is a jolly good fellow with a great sense of humor. He was a member of the R. O. T. C. for two years, and, during his second year, he was promoted to the rank of sergeant. He was also a member of the football squad for two years.

THELMA ELIZABETH HANRIGHT

"Iggy" is well known not only in Wakefield but in "South Boston." She was on the girls' baseball team for two years and on the Senior Dance Committee, taking part in the entertainment. We hear she has a passion for a gigilo, or is it "Gigi"?

CAROLINE HARRIS HASKELL

Believe it or not, the dignified, smartly dressed "Kay" comes from Lynnfield! Her charming personality adds grace to any gathering. She has been a willing worker on the Junior Prom Committee and in the Inter Nos Club. We hear that her future is undecided, but we know it will be successful, even though it is only working among pots and "Pans."

EDNA LILLIAN HAYWARD

Edna Hayward, one of the flashing, quiet, young ladies from South Lynnfield, expects to attend Burdett College. She has been a member of the Girls' Glee Club and the Inter Nos Club for two years. We call her "Eddie."

ANN HENNESSEY

Vivacious, blithesome, and gay, Ann Hennessey, nicknamed "Yid", is one of the most popular students in Wakefield High School. Ann, a graduate of the Montrose Grammar School, has led a rather glamorous career since her entrance into our Alma Mater. Although she has not been noticeably active on committees and teams, her conquests among the male student body are recommendations enough to those who are not included among her few confidants. Remember, Ann, all nurses are heartbreakers!

EFFIE MARIE HOAG

"Ef" came to us from the Woodville School. Shy, but always cheerful and ready to help, she has found a place for herself in the hearts of those who know her. She has been an active member of the Inter Nos Club, and took part in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. "Ef" plans to study music.

CHARLOTTE ORA HOLT

Charlotte Ora Holt, known to us as "Char," came to Wakefield High School from the Lafayette School. Among the many activities in which she participated, her work in basketball, field hockey, the Alcynes Club, and Junior Prom committee are outstanding. Your merry ways make life worth while, "Char."

MADELINE GUBTAL HOWE

Madeline's red hair belies her disposition—she has not a fiery temper but is always smiling and pleasant. Since the time she came to us from the Lafayette School, she has been an active member in the Inter Nos Club, on the Class Day Committee, the Year Book staff, the History Committee, and participated in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. She also has received awards for her work on the basketball team. Madeline is going to Simmons College to study to be a librarian.

DONALD HUFF

"Don," he who breezily blows in from Lynnfield Centre each morning, is one of the outstanding men in this great class of ours. "Don" was on our track and cross-country teams this year. He was the hero of our Senior Play. He is planning to attend the college that Rudy Vallee put on the map, the University of Maine. Don't forget us, "Don"!

VERNA I. JENKINS

Verna came to us from the Bellows Falls Grammar School in Vermont. She has been a valuable member of the orchestra and Girls' Glee Club for three years. During her Freshman and Sophomore years, she was a member of the Athletic Council.

CARL RUDOLPH JOHNSON

"Johnnie's" activities were confined to interclass basketball, drill, and the Senior Dance Committee. After his graduation from Hobart College, he intends to lock himself up in a biological laboratory. He doesn't say much, but "actions speak louder than words."

GORDON L. KALLENBERG

"Kal" came all the way from South Lynnfield Grammar School to honor us with his presence. He has been a member of the R. O. T. C. for two years. "Kal" plans to further his education at Wentworth Institute.

BARBARA KELLOWAY

Greenwood claims Barbara Kelloway, called "Barb" for short. She is going to train for nursing at the Children's Hospital. What do you say, let's get sick. Just one more thing, "Barb." Did you ever get over that passion you had for French when you were a Sophomore?

M. ALICE KELLOWAY

"Al" has been a well-liked member of the commercial department. In her Freshman year she went out for hockey and worked at the information desk. She has belonged to the Inter Nos Club and to Junior and Senior English Clubs. We do hope, "Al," when you get a position as private secretary, that they will furnish you with a nice Remington. Good luck to you at Chandler's Secretarial School.

DOROTHY KELLOWAY

"Dot" is another Kelloway girl, coming from Greenwood. She was a member of the English Clubs during her Sophomore and Junior years. "Dot" is undecided about her future work.

ROBERT D. KING

"Bob" came to us during the Sophomore year and immediately stepped into the limelight with his exceptional musical ability. He was made major after two years of the R. O. T. C., and he has ably fulfilled all that was expected of him. When he will have finished school at Boston University, we may expect a second Sousa.

HELEN KIRMES

"Kitty's" high school career has been well-filled with activities on the athletic field as well as with club activities—Inter Nos and English Clubs. "Kitty" has no particular plan for the future, but we hope that she will be successful in anything she attempts.

EDWARD F. LALLY

"Eddie" came from the Lincoln School and has been an accomplished athlete. Not only in track, as captain, has he excelled, but also in interclass basketball and on the football team. He played a leading part in the Senior Play. He plans to enroll in Northeastern, and we surely wish him the best of luck.

PRISCILLA A. LAMPREY

"Cilla" Lamprey comes from the wilds of Greenwood, but everyone likes her. She has been an active member of the Inter Nos Club, and has served on the Senior Dance Committee. Greenwood has reason to be proud of her—she is one of our students graduating with honors.

KATHERINE JOSEPHINE LAWLESS

"Kitty" came to us from the famous Lincoln School of this town. Loved by all her friends for her sweetness, "Kitty" has been a cheerful classmate during her four years here. She plans to train to be a nurse in the Massachusetts General Hospital. Good luck to you, "Kitty."

PAUL LAZZARO

"Paulie" first attended the Lincoln School and then the Warren before entering high school. During his Freshman year, Paul was a member of the Student Council and also played interclass basketball. As a Sophomore, he was a member of the varsity basketball and baseball squads. In his Junior year, "Paulie" starred in track, and during his Senior year, he was outstanding in football and basketball. Paul attracts many winning smiles from the fair damozels of W. H. S. He intends to enter the University of Maine next year.

MARY CATHERINE LeBLANC

"Catty" LeBlanc hails from the Franklin and Warren Grammar Schools. She was a very active girl athlete, taking part in field hockey, track and baseball in her Sophomore and Junior years. Basketball, as well as the Household Department style show, occupied her attention as a senior. She plans to enter training for the nursing profession.

VIRGINIA LEE

Virginia Lee, better known as "Ginny", came from the Greenwood Grammar School. Of course we can't hold that against her, because, they say, "the tail wags the dog." "Ginny" has been very popular during her four years at "high." She was an Inter Nos Club girl and corresponding secretary of that club in her Senior year. She starred in basketball her Sophomore year. "Ginny" plans to go to Bryant and Stratton in the fall.

ESTHER C. LOUGHLIN

Esther, that girl with the whimsical smile, is a former pupil of the Warren School. Tennis is a favorite sport with Esther. She has been a member of the Inter Nos Club for two years and has played basketball. Esther plans to enter Salem Normal School in September.

GERALDINE THERMA LOVERING

"Jerry" is a jolly lassie. She participated in hockey, track, baseball and bowling. She has been an outstanding member of the art classes. "Jerry" has decided to join the student body at Vesper George School of Art next year.

LORRAINE LYNCH

"Lory" came from the Lincoln School. She plans to enter the Old Colony Secretarial School next year. She won numerals in track and tennis. She was a member of the Inter Nos Club her Junior year and her class English Clubs for three years.

MARY ANNE MacDOUGALL

"Ginger" entered high school from the Lincoln School. She participated in Inter Nos Club affairs for three years, sang in the Girls' Glee Club as a Junior, and was a member of her divisional English Clubs for four years. She participated in track and basketball during her Sophomore and Junior years, and tennis in her Junior year. She served as an usher at both the Senior play and the Hi-Y—Inter Nos production, "Tweedles." She plans to attend Boston University and then become a private secretary.

DAVID W. MacLEOD, JR.

David W. MacLeod, Jr., called "Junie" by his friends, attended the Warren Grammar School before entering our fair Alma Mater. "Junie," who has not played an especially prominent part in the school's affairs, has created for himself a host of friends. Following graduation, "Junie" plans to pursue a career of aviation.

WESLEY MASON

"Wes" came to Wakefield High from the Warren School and at once joined the Glee Club. "Wes" has been active in the Hi-Y for two years and was on the dance committee this year. He likes track and has been a member of the track and cross-country teams for two years. Much luck with your speed, "Wes."

DORIS P. McCLINTOCK

"Mac" was a new addition to our class last year. She has been a member of the Inter Nos and English clubs, and this year she revealed great ability as an actress in the Hi-Y—Inter Nos club play. She was also on the class history committee. Well, "Mac", there is one consolation, if the girl back home gets Dwight, you can be his private secretary.

MARY ELIZABETH McGRAIL

"May" is one of our tall blondes hailing from the Lincoln School. Her willingness to help and her ready smile have made her a favorite in our class. We look to see you as one of our most eminent singers in the future.

MARY McMANAMIN

"Mickey" attended the Lafayette School before coming to high school. She plans to be a nurse and seems well suited to the profession. She was a member of the Wisdom Seekers' Club and the Inter Nos Club. She has won numerals in hockey and basketball. She was appointed to the Senior Play Committee this year.

MARJORIE ELEANOR MESSER

"Marge," who comes to us from South Lynnfield, has been especially active in club work for four years. We all appreciated her rhetorical in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest. She plans to specialize in art at the Museum of Fine Arts. She has been a member of the high school orchestra for four years, and anyone organizing an orchestra should remember "Marge's sax."

MORRIS MILLER

Honor Part

"Mossy" has made himself one of the outstanding pupils. He has been a member of the R. O. T. C. for four years and, during his Senior year, he received a commission as second lieutenant. He is a member of the Class History committee. "Mossy" is well-known as an artist.

FRANK MUGFORD

"Mugsie," the sensational football player from Greenwood, has helped advance the team to the prominent position that it holds today. He has also played on our hockey and baseball teams. In his Junior year he was vice-president of our class. "Mugsie's" only regret is that he had to study in order to play on the teams. At the University of Pittsburg, where Frank is planning to go, we know that the football team will soon be at the top. Be good, "Mugsie."

RICHARD L. MUSE, JR.

The nickname "Ricky" makes one think of someone unstable, infirm, or unsteady. Not so Richard, he is as steady and dependable as a granite post. He received his training at the Hamilton and Warren Schools but, as yet, has no plans for the future, which condition is a precarious one for a methodical young man to be in. "Ricky" was active in interclass basketball for three years, and this year he was on the hockey team.

EDWINA F. NEAL

Edwina F. Neal entered the Wakefield High School, having graduated from the Greenwood Grammar School. Edwina, called "Wina" by her friends, has been a member of the Inter Nos Club, the English Club, the Civics Club, and the cast of the Senior Play. She is now planning to enter the Melrose Training School for nurses. We shall not forget your cheerful spirit and pleasant smile, "Wina."

ELEANOR NUTT

Franklin School gave us that active little girl called "El". She was on the Board of Directors of the Inter Nos Club and a member of the Masque Club. The 1930-31 basketball games interested "El" immensely—we wonder why? She's enrolled at B. U. for next year. Here's wishing you loads of luck in anything you attempt, "El".

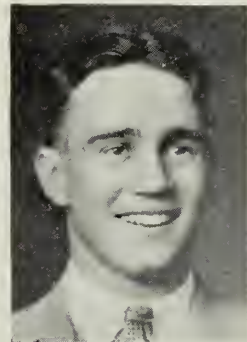

CHARLES S. O'CONNELL

"OKey" came to high school from the Greenwood Grammar School. In '28 and '29 he played football, and in his Sophomore year he went out for baseball. Since he can't tear himself away from "dear ol' high," he plans to return next year. He may seem quiet at first, but on longer acquaintance we find a "corking" good fellow.

JAMES JOSEPH O'KEEFE

"Jimmie" came to our renowned Alma Mater from the Hamilton Grammar School. During his Freshman year, he played football and took a part in the Masque Club play. "Jimmie" has also been interested in several other activities: track, the Senior Play, and the Senior Party. On the '31 football team, "Jimmie" made a fine showing and won much deserved recognition. With the students, he has been exceedingly popular. "Jimmie" plans to attend either Holy Cross or Exeter after graduating. Success to you, "Jimmie"!

BEATRICE PACKARD

Beatrice Packard, generally known as "Pat," came from the Warren School. She has been one of the most popular girls in the Senior class. In her Freshman year, "Pat" belonged to the Debating Club. She starred in basketball in her Freshman year, and in her Junior year she played tennis. During her Sophomore year, "Pat" was in the Masque Club play. Again, in the Senior Play, she proved herself a successful actress. She served on the Junior Prom Committee last year and on the Year Book staff this year. "Pat" intends to enter Philadelphia Osteopathic College. Needless to say, she will make a great success of her profession.

THOMAS L. PARSONS

"Tom", who is a jolly and popular boy of our class, is planning to enjoy the sea's happiness. He served on both the Junior Prom and Senior Party Committees. During his Freshman year he was a member of the R. O. T. C. He is also an active member of the Hi-Y Club. "Tom" wants to become a member of a nautical school, and we know that he will reach his determined goal.

FRANCIS RYDER PAYZANT

"Pan" is one of those likable fellows whose every utterance is filled with humor. His ready wit is well known to all his classmates. His knowledge of the outdoors and his proficiency as a marksman are two of his many attainments.

EUNICE H. PELLEY

We have heard it said that good things come in small packages. That surely applies to "Eunie" from Lynnfield. In W. H. S., she belonged to the Inter Nos Club, the Glee Club, and the Masque Club. Eunice shines in drawing—we should call her "Eunie, the girl artist." Next year she is going to "prep" school and later to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Who can tell—some day we may be proud to have known the great Eunice.

DOROTHY E. PETERSEN

"Dot" intends to be a teacher of languages in the future. She has been outstanding in athletics, being on the basketball team, the track team, the baseball team, and the hockey team. In her Junior year she was hockey captain. You have our regards, "Dot".

ESTHER MAE PETERSON

"Es" was one of that horde of pupils entering high school from the Lafayette School. Her winsome smile and sunny cheerfulness have won her a host of friends. Willing to work at all times, she has played an active part on the Senior Play candy committee, the Class Day committee, and in the Inter Nos Club. We know you'll have many friends at business school, "Es."

GARDNER HENRY PETERSON

Although "Pete's" most important activities were the Glee Club and the Hi-Y Club, we seem to think that "Tweedles" did a lot toward his Summit Avenue activities—if you catch what we mean. His R. O. T. C. work included a commission both as a second lieutenant and as a captain. His performance in the Senior Play showed his dramatic talent. September will find him enrolled at Massachusetts State College.

ALDA GRACE PINTO

Alda is a very industrious student. She has been a member of her English clubs and also a worker on the Motto Committee. During her second and third years, she was a member of the Girls' Glee Club. Alda plans to enter Salem Normal School next Fall.

FLORENCE PRATT

Have you been captured by Florence Pratt's big brown eyes? Classmates say she likes to talk, and that she and Mr. Dower argue admirably. At any rate, we know Florence has an inviting future before her.

EMMA JEANNETTE PRICE

Emma is a loyal supporter of W. H. S. People notice her for her neatness in dress. She is a born planner and arranger; give her a chance to do things and she is happy. Emma is interested in two "A's": athletics and aviation. We'll fly with you any day, Emma!

ROBERT EDWARD PURDY

"Bob," the boy with the smile, came to High from the Warren School. "Bob" is one of the boys who have worked hard to have hockey recognized as a school sport. He has guarded the net for three years. Another specialty of "Bob's" is track. On our great '32 football team, he was one of the "four horsemen." "Bob" is planning to go to "prep" and then to M. I. T. Good luck, Bob!

RICHARD PYBURN

Richard Pyburn, one of the silent boys from Lynnfield, is a student in the commercial division. He is planning to work after he leaves school, and his success is assured. Why? Boy, he is industrious, and how!

KATHERINE FRANCES QUINN

Everyone knows "Kitty." We have all seen her broad smile. "Kitty" is usually busy, but she is ever willing to do her share in the activities about school. We are glad to have her, for who could help appreciating that winning smile. We wish her luck at the Chandler Secretarial School.

RUTH SELFRIDGE REAMS

"Ruby" came to Wakefield High School from the Greenwood Grammar School. She has won our sincere admiration for her work in the art department. "Ruby" is also an actress, taking part in the Masque Club play her Sophomore year. If you have ever heard her sing, you will agree that she should study voice culture.

LEROY BURNHAM RENDALL

"Pug" has been one of the most popular students of the class. He was a member of the Student Council in his Freshman year and a member of the Hi-Y Club the last three years. He proved himself a successful actor in the Senior and Hi-Y plays this year, and he also served on the Senior Party committee. In addition, "Pug" has afforded much amusement in the Sad Syn-copators. He plans to go to the Massachusetts School of Art in the fall. Well, here's hoping, "Pug"!

GEORGE R. ROBINSON

Although "Robby" is fifth in his class, as to academic work, he is one of the first in the hearts of his fellow classmates. The Hi-Y Club held his attention for three years, and the R. O. T. C. presented him a well-earned commission after four years. His dramatic talent was brought forth in the Senior Play. If his scholastic record has anything to do with it, he will be doing great things at M. I. T.

MARGARET ROGERS

Have you ever heard "Midge" read? Her natural reading ability has always been outstanding, even as a pupil in the Warren School. She has been an eager helper in the Inter Nos Club and on various committees. Always a remarkable student, she came fourth on the honor roll of her class. We predict success for you at Smith College, "Midge."

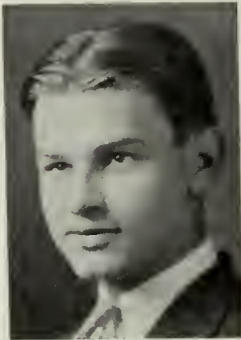

GRACE RUSSELL

Grace came to us from Montrose four years ago. She is quiet and unobtrusive, but a willing worker. She was a member of the Senior Party Committee this year. We envy the husky man who has you for his stenographer, "Rusty"!

LEO T. RYAN, JR.

Leo Ryan, "Xerxes" to most of his classmates, is known and liked by everybody. His specialty is art, but he recently showed unexpected dramatic ability by starring in "Tweedles", the Hi-Y—Inter Nos play. "Xerxes" is going to the Massachusetts Art School, and, with his natural ability at drawing, ought to be a big success.

PETER SAWCHUK

Although he has led a rather retiring school life, "Pete" has earned a favorable reputation among his intimate classmates. These close confidants have discovered beneath his silent attitude a strain of splendid philosophy. Cheer up, "Pete," Coolidge is a man of few words.

DOROTHY M. SAUNDERS

"Dot" is always on the job. We know that Mr. Dower can't "stick" her in economics. That's all right, "Dot". Don't let them put anything over on you, it will count against you in your office work.

JOHN S. SAWIN

"Johnnie Dingbat" went to the Greenwood Grammar School before he came to the big city to attend high school. He went out for baseball and track, but it's in the musical world that he excels. He blew his horn for three years in the orchestra and for one in the band. What would the lunch counter do without "Johnnie," and what should we do without that smile?

GERTRUDE CAROLINE SCHEFISCH

"Gertie" seems quiet to students in Wakefield, but her Lynnfield acquaintances say she is jolly and full of fun. We are sure that "Gertie" will succeed in whatever vocation she may choose. Would that we had more like her!

WILLIAM L. SCHWARZ

"Buddy" is one of the prominent members of the Class of 1932. For three years he has been a member of the Boys' Glee Club, and he is now its able President. He is also the club's soloist in concerts. In addition, he finds time to serve on the Prophecy and Banquet Committees. William intends to become a music supervisor. Lucky school that wins him!

CAROLINE HELEN SCOTT

Caroline Helen Scott came to us from the Greenwood Grammar School. As a Sophomore, she was a member of the Glee Club; and as a Junior, she participated in the activities of the Inter Nos Club. She has also been selected as a member of the Reception Committee. Caroline is now planning to enter college, after which she expects to teach.

CORA A. SEAVEY

"Gussie" Seavey capers down from Greenwood on the bus every morning. She has been a member of the Inter Nos Club for four years and she has served on the Class Day Committee. She plans to attend Farmington Normal School and teach the future generation. We all wish you luck, "Gussie"!

CLAIRE V. SHANAHAN

Claire likes to be called "Shan," so we'll start right in now. She was a member of the Girls' Basketball Team in her Freshman year and of the Inter Nos Club during her Junior year. "Shan" is a slim, attractive, and likable girl. It will be worth the trouble to get sick when Claire becomes a nurse.

LLOYD SHEA

Lloyd Shea, nicknamed by some, "Lunchhook," plans to go to Westminster School and later to Columbia College. He is a familiar sight around W. H. S. in his First Lieutenant's uniform. Lloyd has been a member of the Year Book and the Class Gift committees.

ROBERT JOHN SHEA

"Zeke," a man who attracts the opposite sex, came to us from the Warren School. The only sport he found fast enough for him was hockey. Incidentally, he was one of the highest scorers. We feel sure that he will be successful at The Bentley School of Accounting.

BARBARA C. SHELDON

"Barbs" came to us from the Warren School. She has been very active in dramatics, having been a member of the Masque Club and of the cast of the Senior Play. She was also a participant in the Senior Prize Speaking Contest and a member of the Senior Year Book Committee. "Barbs" plans to enter Bryant and Stratton Business College next year. Though quiet, she is well liked by all, and we wish her much luck.

MARY BEATRICE SHERIDAN

"Sherry" has been a well-liked member of the class of '32. In her Freshman year, she belonged to the Civics Club; and in her Sophomore year, she was on the Senior Motto Committee and served as a member of the Inter Nos Club. Both last year and this, she has been a member of her English club. One thing we'd like to know, "Sherry," is how you are going to get along without "Dot" Doucette to write notes to next year!

ELLEN MARGARET SLATTERY

Ellen Margaret Slattery, a graduate of the Harvard Grammar School, Charlestown, has been very active in athletics during her four years with us. She has participated in basketball, bowling and hockey, as well as in club work. In order to become a nurse, Ellen plans to enter St. Elizabeth's Training School, Brighton. Her merry ways will carry her far in her career.

ALSON EARL SMITH

This genial, happy-go-lucky youth drifted in to us from that much-abused region, Montrose. Being of an open mind, he was in search of enlightenment and knowledge. He has been a member of the Year Book committee and the Class Day committee. He plans to enter Northeastern University. Here's luck to you, "Smitty," and may your bridges never tumble down!

JENNIE MARY SMITH

She says her nickname is "June." It makes us think of "What is so rare as a day in June?" She is a quiet, reserved, and studious girl with a smile which is like the sunshine. Jennie will have no trouble getting along in business school.

WILLIAM B. SPARKES

"Bill"! There's a man for you! In all sports "Bill" is there. He has played baseball for four years, football for three years, and has captained the hockey team this year. In his Sophomore year, he was President of the class. He came from the South Lynnfield Grammar School and is planning to go to Governor Dummer Academy. Take care, "Bill."

ELIZABETH CRESSIDA STEELE

"Betty" came to us from the Boston Intermediate School. Her most prized and envied possession is her wealth of lustrous golden hair. "Betty" is a favorite among the whole student body, and she owes her social success to her happy-go-lucky disposition. "Betty's" ambition is to become a trained nurse at the New England Sanitarium. We wish her a successful and happy career.

BYRON STOKES

"By" is a quiet, likable chap from Lynnfield. While he has never taken an active part in school athletics, he is, nevertheless, well known and liked by his classmates. We're glad to hear that "By" is going to Boston College next year.

GORDON TUTTLE

"Tut" is a chap whom you like as soon as you become acquainted with him. He played on the hockey team this year and performed much to his credit. "Tut" is as handy with his pen as he is with a hockey stick, and he was chosen for the Booster Staff last year. He has been faithful in attendance at Hi-Y since entering. Here's to "Tut."

KATRINE TUTTLE

Hailing from the Warren School, "Katie" now graduates from high school leaving a trail of conquests behind her. As an inspired football cheer leader and an active member of the Girls' Glee Club, she is always a willing worker. Interested in her own class, she nevertheless finds time to appreciate certain talents among the Juniors.

GERTRUDE A. VANDENBERG

"Van" came from the Lincoln School. She has made herself one of the prominent pupils of the class by her work on the girls' athletic teams. She was a member of the Athletic Council for four years. "Van" is going to California, the land of eternal sunshine.

WILLIAM WALKINS

William Walkins, better known as "Weary Willie," came to us from the Woodville Grammar School. "Willie's" jovial countenance, which has dispelled the gloom in many of his classrooms, will be well remembered, even by those outside his circle of immediate friends. As a member of the Prophecy Committee, and as a clever writer for the "Booster," he will be remembered by the Class of '32.

LESTER I. WELFORD

"Let" is one of those fellows who believe in the saying, "Love 'em and leave 'em." He sure has broken many hearts around this school, but we think some one in Greenwood has really captured him for good. (Look out, "Let") He has been a member of the Hi-Y Club and has served on the Class Gift Committee. Be yourself at Northeastern, "Let"!

MARJORIE W. WELLMAN

Marjorie said that she was very active in the Lawrence High School before she joined us at Wakefield High. Do you suppose she meant to insinuate that our "High" wasn't worth the trouble? Whatever she may have meant, we know that Marjorie is a jolly person to be with, and that she may be a great thinker. What makes our feet go up when we ascend the stairs, "Marge"?

BRENDA WELLS

Brenda came from the Lincoln School to this place of learning. Her erect bearing adds dignity to our otherwise prosaic corridors. Brenda was an usher at the Senior Play and is well known by most everyone. We don't know Harry, Brenda, but we'd like to!

GEORGE E. WENGEN

"Kid," although of a retiring nature, was elected vice-president of his class the Senior year and was appointed a member of the Traffic Squad. He expects to enter M. I. T. George is well liked by everyone who knows him and is the kind of fellow who will go far. There aren't many like George.

JEAN BARTLETT WHEELER

Jean has a most vivacious personality. Each word is emphasized by a gesture, and each motion made more emphatic by a verbal sound. Wherever Jean lends her presence, life will not be morbid. She proved herself to be an actress in the Senior play, an athlete on the basketball court, an orator in the Prize Speaking Contest, and a student by being on the honor roll. Next fall will see Jean at Smith College.

MARGARET ELIZABETH WHITEHEAD

"Mitzi" is not the personage whom one sees on the cinema screen, but one who wanders from Greenwood, the home of Robin Hood, carrying not pot and pans but books and a tennis racquet. Maybe it will be "Mitzi" and not Helen Wills Moody, who will be the tennis queen in the United States in future years. At present, she is planning to add her pleasing personality to the student body of Radcliffe College.

CLARE RITA WHITE

"Clita" has always taken an interest in whatever occurs in school and is always "Johnnie on the Spot" if there is anything happening that will benefit her in the way of knowledge. She has been a loyal supporter of the Inter Nos Club and the Reception Committee. We're with you, Clare!

MARY RUTH WHITTEN

"Ruthie" has been one of the outstanding girls of our class. She has participated in baseball, hockey, basket ball, and bowling. She was a prominent member of the Inter Nos Club. "Ruthie" was chosen a member of the Senior Party Committee. She has decided to attend Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School.

KATHERINE WINKLER

"Kitty" formerly attended the Hurd School. She has won numerals in baseball and tennis. She was a member of the Inter Nos Club during her Sophomore and Junior years. We all remember "Kitty" for her performance in the Senior Play. She plans to attend Colby College next year.

VIRGINIA WOODBURY

Pep—that's "Ginny." Her gay, bantering manner has won for her an endless number of swains. "Ginny" has been a prominent and loyal member of the Inter Nos Club. We know that the future holds success for her.

KENNETH A. WORTHEN

"Ken" has been one of the most prominent pupils of our class, and, during his Junior year, was president of our class. He has been a leading soloist of the Boys' Glee Club for four years. This year he was chosen manager of the hockey team. Next fall, he will enter Boston University.

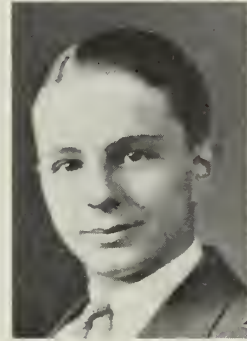

GEORGE HENRY YOUNG

George has shown great ability in acting this year. Did you hear him stamp around and fret about his son in the Hi-Y—Inter Nos play? He was a member of the battalion for three years, and last year he was on the rifle team. If you ever hear any squalls down on Grafton street, you will know it's George playing "St. Louis Blues" on his clarinet. By the way, George, if you are going to be an architect, won't you need an artist?

ALFRED A. Ghibellini

"Fee" is a young man who is friendly to all, but intimate with few. He seems quiet to those who do not know him, but his close friends tell us that he is full of fun. He enrolled in the commercial course at Wakefield High School. Remember us, "Al", when you're a big business man!

Daniel F. Burbine

"Bub" is a short, stocky fellow who has a good sense of humor. He has made himself known as an athlete by carrying the pigskin over the line many times in the last four years and by playing basketball and baseball. We all expect to see "Bub" one of the star players at prep school and at college.

Wallace Chesley

Wallace Chesley came from the Warren School, but he is frequently seen on the north side of town. Maybe one of the Junior girls can explain this. "Chisler" has been a prominent member of the Senior Class and a more prominent recipient of Mr. Kinder's P. M. slips. Wallace played baseball his Freshman year, and in his second year he was quite a hero in football. His Senior year found him a member of the band. He also afforded much amusement in the auditorium in the role of one of the Sad Syncopators. "Chisler" plans to enter New Hampton Preparatory School in September.

Jessie Clem

Jessie hails from Cherryfield Grammar School, Maine. For all that she came from Maine, one can hardly think of Jessie as a farmerette. In fact, she is planning to enter training for a nurse at the Massachusetts General Hospital in the fall.

LEON FRANCIS DULONG

"Sub" Dulong attended the Hurd School before coming to high school. His high school career has been one touchdown after another. He has been a football "headliner" ever since his Freshman year, attaining the unusual honor of being captain in both his Junior and Senior years. His athletic prowess was not confined to football altogether, as he was a pitcher on the baseball team for three years and played basketball for two. He is undecided about his future, but we feel sure that "Sub" will make a success of whatever he decides to do.

EDWARD D. GRANT

Lincoln School gave us the boy who walked off with the first prize for the best work in woodwork in 1931. He was a member of the Hi-Y Club and the battalion. We expect great things of you, "Eddie"—here's luck!

RUTH ELEANOR GRIFFIN

Ruth, a graduate of the Lynnfield Center Grammar School, has been a member of the Inter Nos Club during her four years in high school. She served also on the Reception Committee, and, during her Sophomore year was a member of the Girls' Glee Club. Ruth is planning to go to college to take up social welfare work.

MARY E. HURTON

Mary has red hair—maybe she calls it Titian, do you, Mary? You know the characteristics attributed to a red-headed person. Mary is an exception. She is a friendly girl, with an even temper and pleasant mannerisms. She will be a most pleasant office companion.

CASIMIR KUKLINSKY

Casimir is an industrious lad. He has not participated in many school activities, but, in spite of this fact, he has made a success of his high school career. Football is his favorite sport, and for several years he went out for it. Here's luck for you, "Kuk", in your future.

JOSEPH O. MIGLIORE

"Jo" is one of the dignified boys of his class. However, he has managed to find time to participate in a number of the school activities. For four years he has been a member of the high school orchestra and of the R. O. T. C. During his Senior year, he received the commission of captain. Joseph intends to enter Massachusetts State College. We're for you, "Jo"!

CORNELIUS MOYNIHAN

"Neal" is seldom seen on the school grounds after school hours, but we feel sure that his time is not wasted. We have all heard it said, "Still waters run deep." "Neal" is an example of this quotation. Although he is very quiet, he always has an answer ready for any question a teacher may ask him.

MARGARET MURPHY

One of the best dressers is "Mig" Murphy. She is a loyal friend whose willingness to work makes her always welcome. She has been a member of the Inter Nos Club and her various English Clubs.

CATHERINE SHANAHAN

Catherine is an industrious student of Wakefield High. Her constant pleasantness has made many friends for her. She is a member of the Commercial division. Our best wishes are with you, Catherine.

GEORGE A. SIMPSON

"Simp" came to us from the Lynnfield Center Grammar School. Although not a participant in many of the social activities, he has been a loyal student of the school. "Simp" plans to enter Suffolk Law School.

EVELYN HILDA THISTLE

The Hurd School gave up another reticent, but industrious, student. How about that hair, "Eve"? Won't you have to let it grow when you go into training at the hospital?

ALFRED HENRY WHITE

"Al" is one of those quiet but conscientious workers, always willing to do his part. Keep it up, "Al"; it will help you in whatever you undertake for your life work.

Autographs

Back Row, left to right: M. Miller, L. Shea, J. Altieri, D. Eaton, W. Russell, G. Robinson
Front Row, left to right: W. Grace, G. Peterson, S. Crosby, R. King, W. Atwell, W. Bliss, E. Flannigan

The Battalion

OUR Battalion has had the advantage of having no inexperienced recruits this year. Because of this fact, Sergeant Danahy has taught advanced maneuvers and sighting.

The officers have attended a number of parties at Taunton, Lowell, New Bedford, Woburn and Gloucester. The annual R. O. T. C. ball was held in the Wakefield High School on May 27.

A complete roster of the battalion officers follows:

STAFF

Major, Robert D. King.
Adjutant, 1st Lieutenant William Grace
Aide-de-camp, Captain William Bliss
Quarter Master, 1st Lieutenant Ernest Flannigan

COMPANY A

Captain, Samuel Crosby.
1st Lieutenant, Morris Miller.
2nd Lieutenant, Jerome Altieri.

COMPANY B

Captain, Gardner Peterson.
1st Lieutenant, Lloyd Shea.
2nd Lieutenant, William Russell.

COMPANY C

Captain, Willard B. Atwell.
1st Lieutenant, George Robinson.
2nd Lieutenant, David Eaton.

Cast of Senior Play

First Night

Jean Wheeler
David Dellinger
Eleanor Glover
Barbara Sheldon
Margaret Rogers
George Wengen
John Buckle
George Robinson
Mary Griffiths
Gardner Peterson
Beatrice Packard

Second Night

Irene Beard
Donald Huff
Jeannette Gardner
Edwina Neal
Margaret Fitz
Edward Lally
James O'Keefe
Leroy Rendall
Katherine Winkler
Roger Gerry
Elizabeth Callbeck

Wardrobe Mistress—Katrine Tuttle.

Property Mistress—Eleanor Nutt.

Business Manager—Mr. Edgar A. Fisher.

Stage Manager—William Bliss.

Stage Crew—William Bliss, Marcus Beebe, Robert Purdy, Stewart Mead.

"Summer Is A-Comin' In," the Senior play of the class of 1932, was a great success. Miss A. True Hardy, our coach, surely deserves much praise for her splendid work. Both nights the hall was exceptionally well filled, and a surprisingly large amount of money was made.

The play, itself, was light and humorous, and the character parts were well portrayed. The efforts of both cast and crew were well spent in making the production one of the high lights of the class of 1932.

SENIOR CAST

Back Row: M. Miller, R. Purdy, L. Ryan, E. Lally, G. Wengen, R. Gerry, J. Buckle, L. Rendall, W. Atwell
 Second Row: G. Robinson, Miss True Hardy, M. Griffiths, E. Glover, J. Gardner, M. Rogers, B. Packard, K. Winkler, W. Bliss, M. Beebe
 Front Row: E. Callbeck, B. Sheldon, D. Dellinger, J. Wheeler, E. Neal, M. Fitz, D. Huff, J. O'Keefe, G. Peterson

Orchestra

FOR nine years the W. H. S. Orchestra has been under the splendid leadership of Mr. C. Albert Jones, the director of music in the schools of Wakefield. Despite the many disadvantages the orchestra has been under this year, Mr. Jones considers it one of the best he has ever had. Because of double sessions, the orchestra has met in the school library on Tuesdays and Thursdays at five o'clock, and even though this difficult time was set for rehearsals, the attendance nearly always numbered eighteen or more.

The orchestra has furnished music for the Senior Play, the assemblies, and has given its splendid annual concert. It also has made a very good appearance at the Town Hall in the Washington celebration.

The orchestra this year comprises the following members:

Piano: Maybelle Anderson.

Drums: Raymond Chartier.

Violins: Thelma Smith, Hazel Smith, Ruth Baum, Nellie Minardi, Helen Ayer, Joseph Giunta, Guy Stella, Dorothy Daland, Mary Lan, Marjorie Fisher, George Robinson.

Saxophones: Marjorie Messer, Rhoda Strong.

Clarinets: George Young, Leon Yeuell, Dudley Holden.

Trumpet and Trombone: John Sawin.

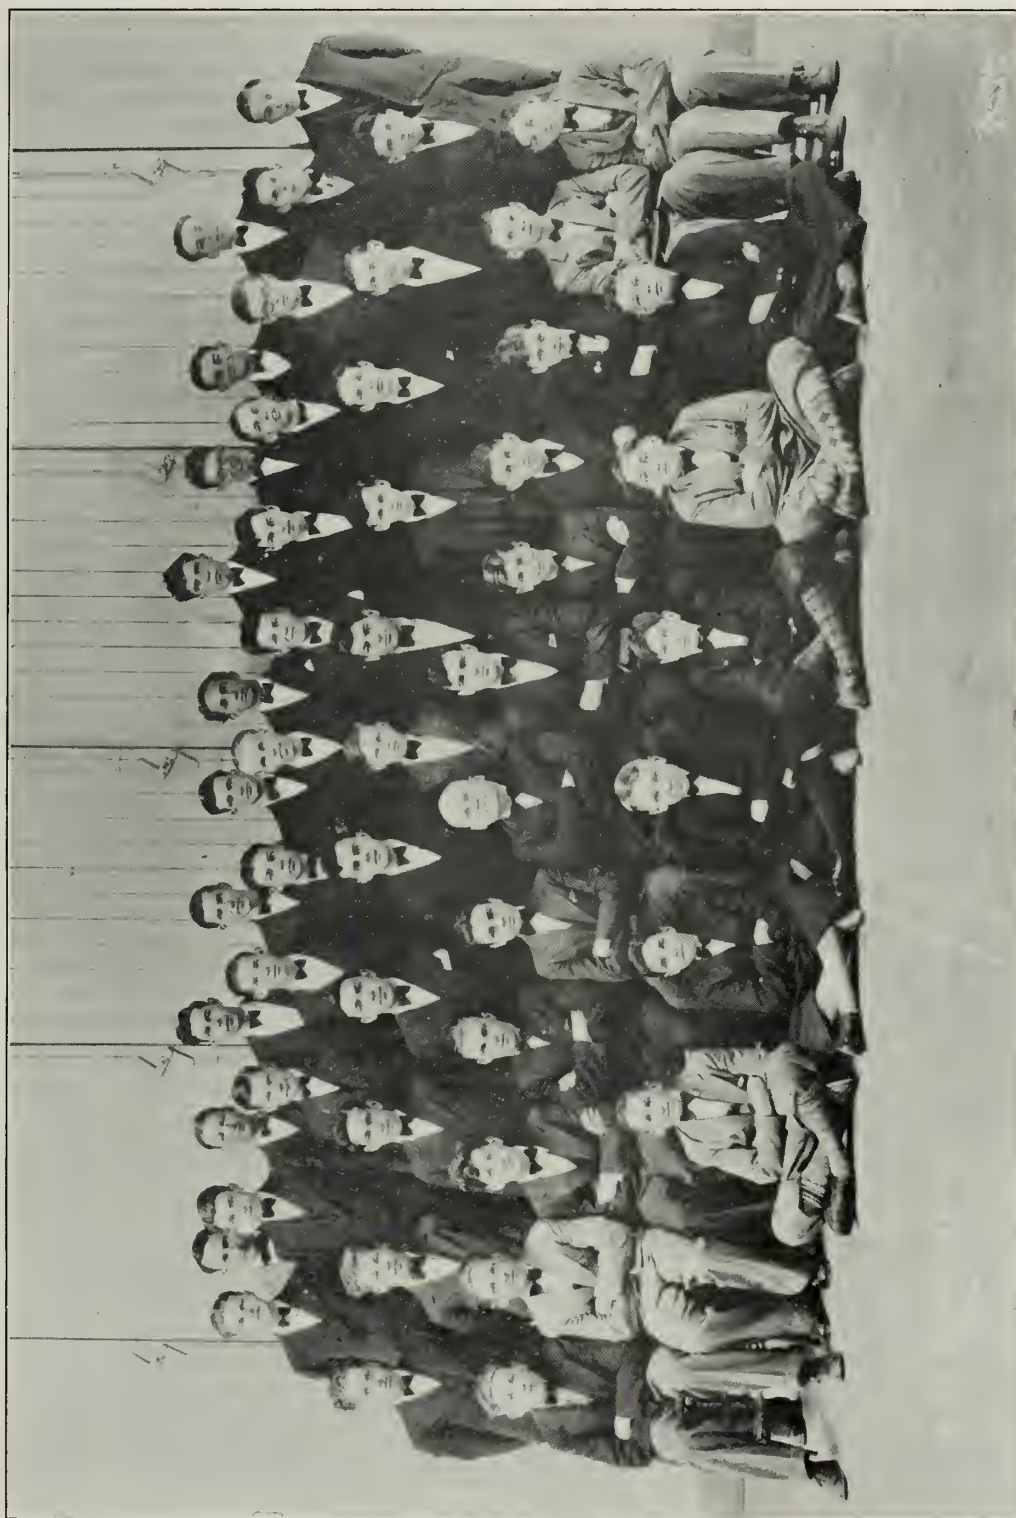

Mandolin: Eleanor Riley.

Euphonium: Robert King.

Tuba: Lane Fuller.

Back Row: R. Baum, H. Smith, T. Smith, M. Fisher, H. Ayer, L. Fuller, G. Young, M. Anderson, J. Sawin, D. Holden
 Front Row: J. Stella, D. Daland, N. Minardi, R. King, Mr. C. Albert Jones, J. Roberts, R. Strong, M. Messer, G. Robinson, J. Guinta

Back Row, left to right: K. Worthen, S. Warner, D. Fairbanks, G. Youn g, L. Millett, E. Hanson, B. Lawless, W. Mason, R. Parker, J. Sawin
 Fourth Row: G. Peterson, T. Maloney, R. Butters, S. Bailey, W. Farwell, M. Phipps, R. Dower, W. Joyce, R. Bliss, F. Coldwell, R. Sweetser
 Third Row: B. Stokes, R. Christie, J. Cook, E. D'Ambrosio, W. Schwarz, R. Steele, J. Modica, C. Benjamin, J. Hennessey, W. Erikson, A. Stolt
 Second Row: J. Keefe, W. Tate, J. Hastings, A. Clapp, J. Todd, A. A. Fulton (Director), L. J. Amio (Pianist), W. Lloyd, P. Robinson, R. Nutt, W. Reynolds, E. Baños
 Front Row: E. Hamel, J. Carey, G. Fisher, R. Allman, S. Schreider, J. Kelso

Boys' Glee Club

IN spite of difficulties presented by the double-session plan, the Boys' Glee Club has had a most successful season. It appeared necessary to limit the membership to the three upper classes, and forty boys signed up to form a well balanced club. Rehearsals have been held at the Y. M. C. A.

The club took part in the Christmas and Washington Birthday assemblies and also sang at the official Washington Bicentennial Program held at the Town Hall on February 22.

On March 1, a Freshman section was formed for the purpose of interesting these boys in and training them for the work next year. Fifteen boys began weekly rehearsals and made such fine progress that they were permitted to sing at the spring concert with the older group, thus making a chorus of fifty-five voices.

Concerts have been given at Lynnfield, Greenwood, and at the Veterans' Hospital at Bedford. In addition, a joint concert with the band and orchestra was given in the high school auditorium. Several social evenings have been enjoyed.

The officers are: President, William Schwarz; Vice-President, Robert Parker; Secretary, Raymond Dower; Treasurer, Roland Butters; Director, Arthur A. Fulton; Pianist, Louis Amiro, '23.

Inter Nos Club

At the last meeting of the Inter Nos Club in June, 1931, the following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Margaret Fitz.

Secretary, Eleanor Glover.

Vice-President, Jean Macdonald.

Treasurer, Kathryn Walton.

Corresponding Secretary, Virginia Lee.

Executive Board—Seniors: Jean Wheeler, Eleanor Nutt. Juniors: Edith Doremus, Hazel Moses. Sophomores: Susan Learoyd, Anne Kimball.

Pianist, Margaret Rogers.

Librarian, Effie Hoag.

Due to the over-crowded conditions of the school, the Inter Nos Club has held no meetings this year, but every girl in the three upper classes has been considered as a member without dues, and the executive board is still active.

During the first week of school, the members of this board acted as guides to direct the afternoon pupils.

The girls of the club provided three full Thanksgiving dinners for the Welfare Department of the town. At Christmas time they collected toys and clothes for this same department with the Hi-Y Club, and they also sponsored the Christmas assembly.

The members have taken up two collections from the school for the benefit of the Caney Creek Community Center in the Kentucky mountain region. The total of these collections was twenty-five dollars and fifty-six cents.

The Inter Nos Club assisted the Hi-Y Club in the production of the play, Tweedles, for the purpose of raising money for both organizations.

Though the girls have been handicapped by being unable to hold regular meetings, they have done what little they could to help the school and to exemplify the true Inter-Nos spirit. The best of success to next year's club!

Hi-Y Club

Hi-Y Club had one of its most successful seasons this year under the inspiring leadership of President John Buckle and the assisting officers. The club is the largest it has ever been; and the projects it has undertaken have been more numerous, chiefly because of the present economic condition and because of the willingness of the boys. At Christmas time, the club borrowed the school truck and spent several days going around collecting clothes and toys. Then again, they helped the Inter Nos Club buy Christmas dinners.

This year the boys decided to present a play and make it an annual event for the purpose of getting money to carry on their work. The play chosen this year was entitled "Tweedles" and was ably given. Although they did not make any money, they did, however, succeed in making a hit which will help the next year's club.

The club's activities have been many. It gave a banquet to the basketball squad and presented each one with a gold basketball. The annual Hi-Y dance was successfully held. In addition, the club gave several other dances just for the members and their friends. A faculty night, at which time all the teachers were the guests for dinner and a general get-together, was another prominent event.

For meetings, the club has been fortunate in getting men who displayed their profession to the boys. Lawyers, ministers, electricians, salesmen, and travelers were among the interesting speakers.

The officers of this year's club are: The officers for next year are:

President, John Buckle.

President, William Russell.

Vice-President, William Bliss.

Vice-President, Walter Comee.

Secretary, William Russell.

Secretary, Boit Wiswall.

Treasurer, Alison Fossett

Treasurer, Rowland Butters.

Back Row: C. Holt, M. Fitz, B. Packard, Miss Marjorie Bent, M. Howe, G. Vandenberg
 Front Row: R. Griffin, E. Glover, A. Clark, E. Daland, R. Whitten, R. Assenza, D. Petersen

Senior Girls' Basketball

SENIOR girls again won the interclass basketball games. The line up for this year is as follows:

Captain Eleanor Daland
Margaret Fitz
Ruth L. Griffin
Madeline Howe
Beatrice Packard
Gertrude Vandenburg

Alice Clark
Eleanor Glover
Charlotte Holt
Ruth Assenza
Dorothy Petersen
Ruth Whitten

The following eight girls deserve much credit for making the team four years and maintaining the required credits in their studies:

Captain Eleanor Daland
Margaret Fitz
Dorothy Petersen
Gertrude Vandenburg

Alice Clark
Eleanor Glover
Ruth Assenza
Ruth Whitten

Because of the double session this year, the girls were unable to participate in outside games. The scores of the interclass games were:

Seniors 18—Sophomores 7

Seniors 10—Juniors 5

Alice Clark, Eleanor Glover, Beatrice Packard, and Margaret Fitz were the outstanding guards this season. Ruth Whitten and Madeline Howe did the work of jumping center, while Ruth Assenza and Charlotte Holt carried on the position of side center. The four outstanding forwards were Captain Eleanor Daland, Dorothy Petersen, Ruth L. Griffin, and Gertrude Vandenburg.

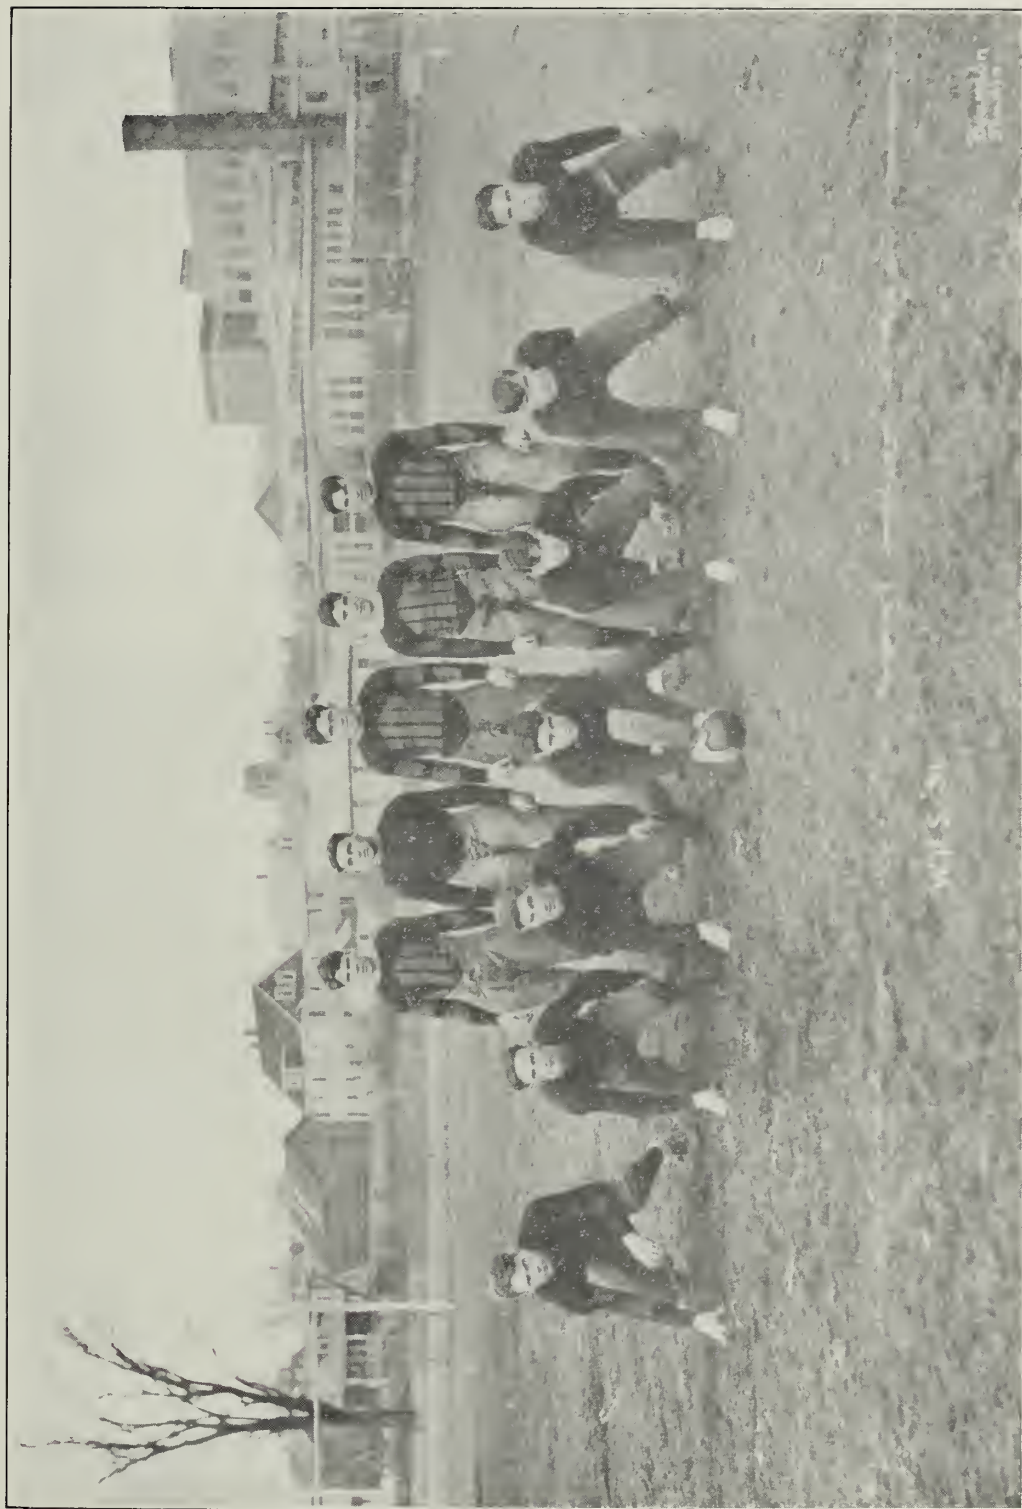

Back Row: Scott, R. Hall, H. Peterson, J. Garden, A. Bennett, G. Dinan
 Second Row: Coach H. Shellenberger, D. Fine, R. Carleton, R. Bliss, W. Grant, W. Richardson, S. Lazzaro, Manager John Buckle
 Front Row: P. Lazzaro, D. Dellinger, M. Beebe, W. Comee, Z. Bliss, L. Fields, D. Burbine, C. Climo

Basketball

THIS year's W. H. S. basketball team achieved a notable record despite the handicaps of a late start and a practise hour from 5 to 7 p. m. It won 11 of its 15 scheduled games, opening with a successful game with the Y. M. C. A. Crusaders, and closing with a victory over Melrose. The high light of the season was the winning of the Middlesex League Championship for the third year. The cup now comes to W. H. S. permanently.

The team was seldom a very high scoring aggregation, only totalling thirty or more points on three occasions. It held its opponents down by means of a hardworking defense in which every man figured. Only one team, the Alumni, was able to score more than thirty points against it, chalking up 35 markers to the High School's 28. Coach Shellenberger did a praiseworthy piece of work in turning out a winner on one week's practise. He should have an even better team next year with four letter men returning and much good material coming up from the Sophomore and Freshman teams. Captain Walter Comee, Daniel Burbine, Lowell Field, Marcus Beebe, Zenas Bliss, William Richardson, Charles Climo, David Dellinger and Paul Lazzaro are the boys who received letters this year; and from these Comee—also next year's captain—Field, Richardson and Climo will return for service next winter. Wakefield also had the honor of placing two men on the mythical "All" Middlesex Team: Captain Walter Comee at center and Daniel Burbine at a guard position. We wish the best of luck to "Walt" and next year's team for another championship.

Back Row: Richard Curley, D. Burbine, F. Mugford, P. Lazzaro, Capt. L. Dulong
Front Row: Robert Curley, E. Dinan, W. Sparkes, J. O'Keefe, Z. Bliss, R. Bliss, W. Comee

Football

HEN the 1932 football season had its call, 55 students responded. Among these were 10 veterans of last year's team. With the veterans and some other excellent material, the coach could see a good chance of producing a winning team.

The season rolled along, and the Wakefield boys found themselves at the top of the list, not losing even one game.

The Arlington game that we were so sure of winning, we lost. Why? This still remains a puzzle. Some have said that the boys were overconfident; others, that the team was stale. We say that they played a great game and need not hang their heads. Every team has its day.

Then came the Melrose game, which ended in a scoreless tie. Both teams played remarkably well, and they fought from the time of the first whistle to the end of the game. Wakefield held on their own one yard line for four downs to keep Melrose from scoring. This game, perhaps the best of the season, deserves a place in the records.

Although the first team received all the credit, the second team deserved a little. It was the second team that kept the first team in trim.

On looking ahead, it is said that the team of 1933 will be even better than our team. There will be at least four veterans: Captain elect Curley, Bliss, Comee and Haladay.

More power to the team of 1933 from the team of 1932!

Back Row, left to right: Coach H. Heavens; Manager, K. Worthen; R. Shea, R. Curley, R. Muse
Front row: A. Bangs, F. Mugford, Capt. W. Sparkes, R. Purdy, G. Tuttle

Hockey

HE Hockey team completed another successful season under Coach Heavens. The team has already built up a very good reputation in its three years of existence.

At the beginning of the season, "Bill" Sparkes was elected captain and "Ken" Worthen manager. Because of the open winter, the team was unable to play as many games as were scheduled. It was victorious over St. Mary's High School of Waltham, Essex Aggies, Lynn Classical, and Lexington, but was held to a tie by Belmont and Maynard. The only teams that were able to defeat it were the powerful ones of the Stoneham, Melrose and Medford High Schools.

Eleven letters were awarded to the following boys who helped to make the team a success: Captain "Bill" Sparkes, Manager "Ken" Worthen, Captain-elect Mark Newbegin, "Bob" Purdy, Frank Mugford, "Bob" Shea, Bert Barry, Albert Bangs, Gordon Tuttle, Richard Muse and John Curley.

Best of luck to the 1933 team and to Captain-elect Mark Newbegin.

Senior Prize Speaking

January 13, 1932

Abraham Lincoln	DAVID DELLINGER	Newman
The Poor Old Maid	MARJORIE E. MESSER	Cooke
Hamlet's Soliloquy, Act 11, Scene 2	MAXWELL A. EATON	Shakespeare
Out to Old Aunt Mary's	EFFIE HOAG	Riley
The Trial and Execution of John Brown	BEATRICE PACKARD	Benet
Musical Numbers by Roy Rendall

PRIZE WINNERS

First: BEATRICE PACKARD
Second: MAXWELL A. EATON
Third: DAVID DELLINGER

January 20, 1932

Clean Curtains	MARGARET ROGERS	Sandburg
The Mountain Woman		Heyward
The Reading Boy		Crane
On "Stilts"	MADeline G. Howe	Staples
The Fall of the House of Usher	RUTH ASSENZA	Poe
Besta Frand		Daly
Leetla Giorgio Washeenton	EMANUEL D'AMBROSIO	Daly
Soloist, Kenneth Worthen

PRIZE WINNERS

First: RUTH ASSENZA
Second: MARGARET ROGERS

January 27, 1932

Excerpts from A Christmas Carol	BARBARA SHELDON	Dickens
And Sealing Wax	EDITH L. DEAN	Perry
A Call to Arms	JOHN T. DINAN	Henry
Correct Behavior While Traveling	ELIZABETH CHARTIER	Stewart
Scum O' the Earth	JOHN SAWIN	Schauffler
Saxophone Numbers by Marjorie Messer

PRIZE WINNERS

First: JOHN T. DINAN

Second: BARBARA SHIELDON

Third: JOHN SAWIN

February 3, 1932

Excerpts from The Man Without A Country	Hale
MARCUS BEEBE
The Mourning Veil	Harbour
JEANNETTE GARDNER
Kentucky Belle	Wilson
RUTH REAMS
A Tragedy in Millinery	Wiggin
KATRINE TUTTLE
Sparticus to the Gladiators	Kellogg
GEORGE YOUNG
Musical Numbers by Leon Yeuell, Accordionist

PRIZE WINNERS

First: KATRINE TUTTLE

Second: GEORGE YOUNG

Third: MARCUS BEEBE

February 10, 1932

The Bombardment	Amy Lowell
JEAN WHEELER
The Heyday of the Blood	Fisher
ELEANOR GLOVER
The Grave of Napoleon	Ingersoll
STANLEY DEARBORN
The Ballad of East and West	Kipling
BRENDA WELLS
The Last Lesson	Daudet
JAMES O'KEEFE
The Hell-Gate of Soissens	Kaufman
The Three Hills	Owen
MARGARET FITZ
Musical Program: Male Quartet, W. H. S. Glee Club—Messrs. Stokes, Peterson, Bliss, Schwarz.

PRIZE WINNERS

First: STANLEY DEARBORN

Second: JEAN WHEELER

Third: MARGARET FITZ

Fourth: BRENDA WELLS

Salutatory

by

Eleanor Glover, '32

Willa Cather, Interpreter of American Life

Friends of the Class of 1932:

It is my pleasure to welcome you to our graduation exercises. We are deeply indebted to the citizens of Wakefield for our splendid educational facilities. To our parents we are grateful for ever-present aid and encouragement. Our teachers deserve our thanks for their patience and inspiring example.

This evening, in accordance with the Washington Bicentennial, each speaker has chosen for the theme of his contribution one of Washington's beliefs. The subject of my address, Miss Willa Cather, is accorded first rank among America's novelists. Her life, as portrayed through her books, emphasizes the ideal of truth and beauty, the purport of this quotation from Washington: "A good moral character is the first essential in a man. It is, therefore, highly important to endeavor not only to be learned, but to be virtuous." Perhaps Miss Cather's fidelity to ideals is best shown in her famous novel, My Antonia, a story of the Western immigrant. Antonia's life, indeed, begins unpromisingly. Her childhood is full of hardships; she is tricked by a scoundrelly lover. But adversity cannot dry up the well of her pioneer spirit that is typically American. She has so deep and true a current of goodness that it removes her from the dangers of mediocrity. Goodness in Antonia is so positive a thing that it seems to bring vitality to all she touches. As the author expresses it, "Antonia has the most trusting, responsive eyes in the world; love and credulousness seemed to look out of them with open faces."

Deep within the soul of Antonia is fixed Miss Cather's intense love for the prairie, blowing with shaggy red grass the color of wine stains. From My Antonia, we get also this picture of Antonia doing a man's work, breaking sod with the oxen, growing physically coarser every day: "She kept her sleeves rolled up all day, and her arms and throat were burned as brown as a sailor's. Her neck came up strongly out of her shoulders like the bole of a tree out of the turf." Of her in later years it was said that "she was a rich mine of life, like the founders of early races." Truly, Antonia as a character indicates Miss Cather's belief in adherence to virtue, a sentiment strongly expressed by the Great Father of America.

Although born in Virginia, Willa Cather grew up among pioneer conditions in Nebraska, where heroic deeds were still being done. From an autobiographical fragment, we learn that in Virginia, where the original land grants made in the reigns of George II and George III had been handed down from father to son ever since, life was ordered and settled; the people in good families ruled, and the poor mountaineers were ignored. Foreigners were scorned unless they were English, or persons of title. Imaginative Willa Cather, taken out of this definitely arranged background and placed among struggling immigrants from all over the world, naturally responded eagerly to the challenging contrasts in her New America. Struggle, because it is dramatic, appealed to her more than comfort and picturesqueness. No one with a spark of generosity could help sympathizing with these peoples who were making a fight to master the language, to conquer the soil, to hold their land, and to get along in this primitive America. Her first two years on the ranch were probably more important to her as a writer than any that came afterward. Every story that she has written since then has been the recollection of some childhood experience that touched her as a youngster and became embedded in her moral character.

It is only natural that with such a setting Willa Cather should write of the frontier life and the West. Willa Cather's West! A country of contrasts: snowed-in winters, "breathless brilliant" summers; plains endless, monotonous, with hardly a swell of the ground; monotonous, with mile after mile of red grass, sagebrush, cornfields, sand-hills, blazing in glittering sunlight, deep-buried under snow, blizzard-swept.

Miss Cather's latest book, Shadows on the Rock, is an experiment, written in an entirely different manner. Nevertheless, she still typifies in her life and thought the admirable sentiment of Washington: "A good moral character is the first essential in a man. It is, therefore, highly important to endeavor not only to be learned, but to be virtuous." She has endeavored to express the mood and viewpoint in the title. The emotion roused in her by the rock of Quebec, a stronghold on which many strange figures have for a little while cast a shadow in the sun, Willa Cather has tried to develop into a prose composition not too conclusive, not too definite; a series of pictures remembered rather than experienced; a kind of thinking left over from the past. Intensely conscientious in her view, still she is able to interpret the Old World with the eyes of the New. Her vision and sympathies are boundless.

Willa Cather's work is classical. Classical, because its natural romanticism is checked by realism, and both are made subservient to an ardent love of life and truth; classical, because the problems she studies are problems of general and permanent interest; classical, because of a superior style—a matchless prose characterized by the aesthetic beauty usually restricted to poetry.

Intellectual characters interest Miss Cather little; she is more fascinated by the general run of mankind. Two native types, however, have especially challenged her imagination. One is the pioneer; one is the artist. Willa Cather's early transportation to the West gave to her without effort on her part revelation of a landscape's essential beauty and an understanding of the peculiar imprint on it of human sufferings and toil. She does not "overfurnish" or unduly embellish her novels; neither does she emphasize the trivial. The absence of cheap or gaudy sensation is noticeable. Like every sincere artist, she knows that truth and beauty are expressed only with simplicity of language. To be sure, high emotion, blows through her chief actors, but like a free and wholesome wind. At the same time, she does not let herself fall into vagueness or into glorification of mere noise and bulk. Taste and intelligence hold her emotions in hand, and, most important of all, she presents a sincere criticism of American life.

Like our noble Washington, Willa Cather is mistress and pioneer in her field. Not once is she unfaithful to the idealistic precept of Washington: "A good moral character is the first essential in a man." We welcome her work as a relief from the realism of other modern authors, and we doubly appreciate her devotion to noble principles. Long live Willa Cather, most prominent interpreter of American life.

Honor Essay

by

Morris Miller, '32

Oliver Wendell Holmes, Eminent Jurist

Among the numerous maxims of Washington is the following: "The due administration of justice is the firmest pillar of good government." At present, this country is proud to have as one of its citizens a retired jurist who has won world-wide recognition; a man who has, for almost half a century, abided by Washington's conception of justice. Oliver Wendell Holmes's service to his country has been great in quality as well as in quantity.

As an eminent and active leader, Justice Holmes displayed attributes similar to those of George Washington. Courage, intellectual acumen, and vision characterized his actions. He also was an able soldier. Although he was fatally wounded three times, he returned after each recovery to go onward and help preserve the Union. An impressive example of his courage and fair-mindedness came when he was in the Supreme Court. He had been previously appointed by Roosevelt and had become a personal friend of his. A case arose concerning a northern securities company. Roosevelt was prejudiced against the company, but Justice Holmes wrote his opinion in favor of the company, stating that the Court was for the interpretation of the Constitution and not for the expression of personal emotion, social theories, or political parties. Throughout all his decisions he maintained this same aloofness from personal feeling and sentimentalism that so ably characterized the Father of our Country. His vision was never obstructed by picayune policies of man.

Although Mr. Holmes could have had a life of ease, he chose the rocky paths to success, and, having achieved success, he still remained at his post. Whenever he was asked why he did not retire, he would say, "When you have taken over one trench, there is always a new firing line beyond." Not until he began to feel his health fail, did he finally leave the bench. He disliked publicity and personal emotion so much that on his last day in Court, when he was helped with his coat by an attendant, he said merely, "I won't be in tomorrow." Even his fellow-justices were not aware of his resignation. President Hoover said in answer to his resignation, "I know of no American retiring from public service with such a sense of affection and devotion from the whole people."

Holmes's success may be attributed to the exercise of his personal powers. His dignity, intellect, and perseverance elevated him from the role of a student of law to the highest judicial position in the land. As he often has said, he worked until work ceased to be fun. He was very keen about court activity. He did not jump at conclusions in making decisions. Guided by his insight and intelligence, he looked behind every detail, meditated upon every possible meaning of the diction, finding here and there a catch word, and then with his brilliant pen, he wrote his opinions. Many times in his dissents he advanced new angles on the case in question. He was named "The Great Dissenter," not for the number of his dissents—for they were few compared with others—but for their brilliancy.

This great justice had certain beliefs of his own. He never accepted tradition. Law to him was a growing institution which should be adjusted to life and the current conditions. "The Constitution," he said, "is an experiment, as all life is an experiment." Like Washington, he had no compulsory guide. Of course he respected the Constitution, but he expanded it for the times. He made law and the Constitution flexible. His guides were his expansive imagination, his fair-mindedness, his intelligence, and his sound judgment. He favored no group especially. "Law," he declared, "is the calling of thinkers." He accepted custom and convention as law. The past could not shape the future for him.

In court he was attentive to the last. He had an indefinable anxiety about court procedure. His keen wit and humor still prevailed despite his ninety-one years. When cases were tried, he frequently interjected epigrams and side remarks. A typical example of his humor occurred in Court when the tall and athletic son of one of the associate justices was arguing a case. The Justice himself was a very small man. Holmes, after having surveyed the dimensions of the son, pencilled a note along the bench which read: "He is a block of the old chip."

Never, however, in spite of his humor, his gaiety, and his liberal views, did Holmes, in his official capacity as a representative of the people and the country, lose sight of Washington's maxim: "The due administration of justice is the firmest pillar of good government." The Constitution to him was always the command of a superior. In all his services to his country he never attempted to legislate; he only passed judgment. To American Youth he will ever be an inspiration and an example of sincerity and integrity.

Valedictory

by

Mary Granese, '32

Edward MacDowell—Father of American Music

The observance of the Washington Bicentennial suggests to many of us a pertinent question: Why is Washington great? In other words, what is there that has kept his memory alive these two hundred years? Is it his brilliant statesmanship, his career as a general, his attributes as a leader, or the fact that he was the first president of the United States? After some consideration I decided that all these achievements added to the grandeur of his greatness. But later, I concluded that thoughts—not deeds—make men great. Behind every worthy deed there has been an altruistic thought. We are fortunate in having many of Washington's ideas still preserved for us as a source of inspiration. In reading some of his sayings, I found one that adequately characterizes the famous American composer, Edward MacDowell. May I quote it for you: "I had rather glide gently down the stream of life, leaving it to posterity to think and say what they please of me, than by any act of mine to have vanity or ostentation imputed to me." Whatever we may say of MacDowell, we must accredit him with the first beginnings of an individualistic American music. In his modest, unassuming way he deservedly earned the title of Father of American Music.

One of the bulwarks of success is a firm foundation. When Washington was launching a new government, he was aware of this fact and worked with one purpose in mind: to make the country financially, politically, and economically sound. So with MacDowell; his elementary technical training, which he then considered drudgery, was to prove one of his greatest supports. Early in life he had a desire to improvise, but his teachers wisely advised him to leave creative work until later.

Like most other American musicians, MacDowell studied abroad. He spent the greater part of his time in France and Germany. While in Germany he studied under Raff, from whom he received much poetic influence. Just as the United States in its infancy had to adopt customs and habits of foreign nations, so our early composers looked to the various European countries as models through which to acquire a general attitude toward art. The difficulty, however, for the American composer is to distinguish between how much he can assimilate for his own use and how much he must restrict in his particular field in order to become master of it. For this reason, American music has been criticized as featureless, commonplace, and wholly devoid of individuality. When one considers that it takes centuries of differentiated environment to produce a new art or a new language, it is inconceivable that any striking originality should rise suddenly in American music.

MacDowell, however, was the first exception to the general criticism. He quickly realized that he was not hampered by any annoying racial and national distinctions from which the most intelligent European cannot free himself. He saw that he was in the midst of a stream of world influences to make himself what he would. As a result of his perception, he did more for American music than any other composer. He was the first of the Americans to speak consistently a musical speech that was distinctly his own. The supreme place that he holds today is due to the fact that his music, in spite of the pronounced Grieg and Raff elements in it, does not sound exactly like that of anyone else. The secret of MacDowell's success lay in his willingness to recognize limitations and his undivided absorption in his cause. In addition, MacDowell was always sincere; he was always himself. There are no features or elements in his style that we feel have been borrowed and not assimilated. The composer gave his own opinion in one of his lectures: "What we must arrive at is the youthful, optimistic vitality and the undaunted tenacity of spirit that characterizes the American man. That is what I hope to see echoed in American music."

Rollo Walter Brown calls MacDowell "A Listener to the Winds." Indeed MacDowell was at his best as a poet of nature. He could express the moods of the forest, the fields, and the ocean in a way that made us understand his message. He was one of the first composers to find inspiration in the melodies of the North American Indians and to elaborate on their songs. It is probable that he would have been foremost in developing these folk songs, had it not been for his untimely death.

The composer's last years were spent in an old deserted farmhouse in Peterboro, New Hampshire, where his poetic imagination had full sway. It was there that he built his famous "Log Cabin," where he could work in the summer time without interruption. Shortly before his death, his pupils and admirers founded the MacDowell Society. It was first established as a memorial to his life. Later, Mrs. MacDowell deeded to the association the Peterboro farm as a colony for creative artists, a natural studio where men and women might come, and, under ideal conditions, spend a certain number of weeks each summer. The fame of this colony has spread all over the world, and undoubtedly further extensions of the "Log Cabin," or, as it has been called, "the MacDowell idea," will be established in different parts of the country. Truly, Edward MacDowell was a beneficent father to struggling artists.

What Washington has done for his country, MacDowell has done for American music: he has lighted the path for others. We know what posterity has said and thought about Washington. We must let time elapse, however, before we can know how posterity will judge MacDowell. But I feel confident that, although some of his compositions may be forgotten, MacDowell will always be immortal for the inspiration he has given to the people of his own land and because of the admirable example he has set for potential artists.

Classmates:

Tonight we have reached the climax of our high-school career. It is a happy occasion in that we have successfully completed our course of study, and a sad one in that we must say farewell to all that has been dear to us in these four years. But let us not say that all these cherished memories are lost to us forever, for they will return again and again in our "mind's eye" to delight us. And in the future, as we reflect upon our happy years here, we shall see that our disappointments and obstacles have been the means of proving the strength and worth of our personal characters. Whatever our plans, we owe it to our parents, who have made our high school education possible; to our teachers, who have patiently urged us on; to our Principal, who has been a steadfast guide; and to other friends who have co-operated with us to make our high-school career a success—we owe it to them to uphold the ideal so beautifully expressed in our class motto, "Forward ever, Backward never."

Will of Class of 1932

To whomever it may concern:

We, the Senior Class of the Wakefield High School, of the County of Middlesex, in this great Commonwealth of Massachusetts, knowing that we are about to leave this institution of learning, that we have learned to love, and being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish, and declare this our last Will and Testament:

We bequeath and devise as follows:

FIRST: The Class Gift. A sum of money for a class gift to be purchased under the direction of Mr. Peterson and the class gift committee, consisting of: Ruth Assenza, Marion Brewer, Cora Seavey, Lester Welford, Alson Smith and Lloyd Shea.

SECOND: To the faculty of the Wakefield High School, our sincerest respect and deepest appreciation for guiding us through the past four years.

TO MR. KINDER: A happy married life.

TO MISS GILMORE: A book of "Plans for a Prom."

TO MISS GLOVER: Better office assistants.

TO MR. PREBLE: A bottle of hair tonic.

TO MISS CASWELL: An English class that will fulfill her requirements.

TO MR. DOWER: Amos & Andy's fan mail.

TO MR. FULTON: A comb and brush.

TO MISS PATTEE: A hammer instead of a pencil.

TO MR. FISHER: Buckle's red stockings.

TO MISS BUTLER: A boy friend.

TO MR. SHELLENBERGER: A championship baseball team.

TO MISS MASON: A book on "Sign Language," so that she can understand her study pupils.

TO MR. HEAVENS: A book of jokes in case he gets exhausted next year.

TO MR. HEALEY: Another successful team for 1933.

TO MISS MARGARET RYAN: Boys and girls who will raise Latin from the dead.

TO MISS ALICE RYAN: Noiseless typewriters.

TO MR. CASSANO: New edition of p. m. slips.

TO MR. WHITE: A seat in the Senate so that some of his political views might be appreciated.

TO MR. MARCHE: A detective agency for his lost drills.

TO MISS HIRST: A Junior chaperon so that when she takes class to art exhibits she will get off at right station.

TO MISS REED: A list of famous quotations from Hamlet.

TO MISS BENT: A machine to answer the million questions asked her.

TO MISS JONES: A second pair of scissors in case the other pair strays too far.

THIRD: To the Junior Class, our undivided attention to the necessary studies.

FOURTH: To the Sophomore Class, our ability to get A's.

FIFTH: To the Freshman Class, our power to dominate.

SIXTH: And lastly we bequeath the following:

- I. Ruth Assenza's dancing to Florence Todd.
- II. Elizabeth Chartier's smart retorts to Gertrude Eckert.
- III. Edward Lally's "power over women" to Wesley Grant.
- IV. Morris Miller's drawing ability to the fortunate Junior who can follow in his footsteps.
- V. Beatrice Packard's acting to the players of next year's Senior Play.
- VI. Ruth Griffin's blonde curls to Phyllis Pottle.
- VII. William Schwarz's golden voice to Bill Galloway.
- VIII. Brenda Wells' "gift of talk" to Ruth Hall.
- IX. Kenneth Worthen's and Alison Fossett's position as score-keepers to the football scorers of 1933.
- X. Maybelle Anderson's piano ability to Jean Bowser.
- XI. Samuel Crosby's "gift of gab" to Elizabeth Humphrey.
- XII. John Dinan's orations to future Demosthenes of W. H. S.
- XIII. Katrine Tuttle's yellow roadster to any fortunate Junior.
- XIV. Margaret Fitz's laugh to Mr. Jones' musical scale.
- XV. Robert King's music talent to the orchestra of 1933.
- XVI. Roger Gerry's crooning to Roland Butters.
- XVII. Joseph Giunta's intelligence to John Downing.
- XVIII. John Robert's palmolive complexion to David Mildram.
- XIX. Leo Ryan's sleepiness to Jess O'Keefe.
- XX. Lloyd Shea's jazz ambition to Ruth Surette.
- XXI. Leon Dulong's football ability to John Modica.
- XXII. Daniel Burbine's physique to Danny Pratola.
- XXIII. Willie Walkins' young endearing charms to Bill Grace.
- XXIV. John Sawin's everlasting smile to "Steve" McDaniels.
- XXV. Bert Barry's curly hair to Bill Russell.
- XXVI. Bill Bliss's success with the ladies to Donald Whitehouse.
- XXVII. Muriel Cameron's voice to Hazel Moses.
- XXVIII. Edward Dinan's quietness to Sam Warner.
- XXIX. Dave Dellinger's speed to George Thompson.
- XXX. Dave MacLeod's beard to Reggie Muse.
- XXXI. Frank Mugford's build to Phil Spaulding.
- XXXII. Jimmy O'Keefe's line to any unfortunate Junior.
- XXXIII. Mary Griffith's spontaneity to Jennie Hoag.
- XXXIV. Bob Purdy's manliness to Boit Wiswall.
- XXXV. George Robinson's red cheeks to Scott Bailey.
- XXXVI. Jenny Smith's calmness to Ruth Surette.
- XXXVII. Ruth Whitten's class to Miriam Roderick.
- XXXVIII. Edith Dean's cheerfulness to Jean Macdonald.
- XXXIX. Ruth Ream's art ability to the artists of 1933.
- XL. Lionel Chaulk's athletic ability to Walter Comee.
- XLI. Gardner Peterson's dainty walk to Martin Shedd.
- XLII. ~~The Sad Syncopators to Reggie Muse~~
- XLIII. Robert Shea's alibis to any unfortunate Junior.
- XLIV. Wallace Chesley's persuasive power to Allan Taylor.
- XLV. William Sparkes' grin to Haskell Fields.

Lastly, We hereby appoint Mr. Peterson executor of this our last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills made by us.

In Witness Whereof, We have hereunto subscribed our names the sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two.

Class of 1932

1. Katrine Tuttle
2. Ruth Reams
3. Edward Dinan
4. John Sawin

We whose names are hereto subscribed do certify that on the sixth day of June, A. D. 1932, the Class of 1932, the testators, subscribed their names to the testament in our presence and in the presence of each of us, at the same time, in our presence and hearing, declared the same to be their last Will and Testament, and requested us, and each of us, to sign our names thereto as witness to the execution thereof, which we hereby do in the presence of the testator and of each other on the said date, and right opposite our names our respective places of residence.

B. L. Caswell, residing at Wakefield, Massachusetts.

Donald White, residing at Wakefield, Massachusetts.

Prophecy

Behold in the pages of Who's Who,
Appearing in 1952,
The notable deeds of '32!
These twenty years have flown fast;
The future has become the past,
And '32 is famed at last.
So listen as we read to you
Of deeds remarkable but true,
Done by the class of '32.

HE first name that I see on the pages of "Who's Who in 1952" is Ignazio Bonfanti. Why! He is mayor of Wakefield, which has at last become a city. To assist him as aldermen are Mary MacDougall, Ruth E. Griffin, Catherine Quinn, Charles Butler, and Clare White. Lorraine Lynch is Chief of Police; Alison Fossett, Tax Collector; and Mary McGrail, Traffic Commissioner.

Here's someone else prominent in the Class of '32. John Dinan, President of the Irish Republic! His impassionate oration, demanding "Liberty or death," has resulted in the complete recognition by the entire world of Ireland's national independence.

What's this? I see that James Cotter has become president of the First National Stores and is a bitter business rival of Ed Grant, who has made the Ames Stores an international chain.

Speaking of business successes, did you know that Lloyd Shea has made quite a name for himself as president of the American Television Co. and that Robert Curley is owner of the greatest show on earth, the Curley Circus? Alfred Ghibellini and Wilhelm Erikson are known as the funniest clowns in existence; and Curley has two remarkable midgets in Thomas Egan and Edward Lally. Esther Loughlin is billed as the fat lady; and Marjorie Allman, as the lion-tamer. Edith Dean and Jeanette Gardner are bare-back riders; and Beatrice Packard an acrobat. I'd like to see that circus.

Here's a name that might interest you—Sam Crosby. His business has expanded until he has become president of the National Dairy Association. At his Lynnfield Dairy he has as farm hands: Carl Olsson, Francis Payzant, Peter Sawchuk, and Richard Pyburn, with Caroline Haskell, Florence Pratt, Marjorie Wellman, and Edna Hayward as milkmaids!

Why, here's something about Cornelius Moynihan! He is editor of the Wakefield Daily Item, which now has a competitor, the Wakefield Morning Glory, with Alice Clark as its first editor. Among the advertisers in the two papers are the Finn, Gill, and Schefisch Fisheries, with Katherine Winkler supervising the Codfish Cake Canning Dept. Huff's Luffy Puffs are mentioned, with Rose Guttadauro as candy tester; as well as the Crisp Crinkley Crackers, with the chief pretzel bender in Donald Duley. Apparently our class has gone in heavily for food, for we find another successful firm listed here, the Kelloway, Kelloway and Kelloway Karoway Kookie Ko.

To turn from food to literature. Under Leon Dulong's name it is announced that he has won the Pulitzer Prize for the outstanding novel of 1952. Good for you, Sub!

Oh, here's an athlete who hasn't turned literary. David Dellinger is famed as a second De Mar, having won his eleventh Marathon, closely followed by George Tucker, who boasts of nine victories. It looks like the pair have had a monopoly on first place in the annual classic during the past twenty years.

Here's another athlete of the class of 1932, Frank Mugford. He's become coach of Notre Dame; and his team is about to meet that of Harvard, coached by our old friend, William Sparks. That will be a game worth seeing!

What's this? Emanuel D'Ambrosio! He is president of the D'Ambrosio Construction Company, specializing in schools and prisons; and he has just completed the latest new Wakefield High School, designed by the famous architect, George Young. The grounds were landscaped by Mary Foster and executed under a sub-contract by the Grady Grading Company, owned by William Grady.

Speaking of the Wakefield High School, perhaps you'd be interested to know that Willard Atwell is principal, Jimmie O'Keefe is submaster, and Eleanor Nutt is dean. Emma Price is heading the aeronautics department, and John Confalone, the commercial department. Jessie Clem is teaching manual training; Morris Miller, drawing; and Elizabeth Callbeck, history.

Why here are the Bliss Brothers, Zenas and William! They've just erected another unit in their world famous hotel chain. Tom Parsons is manager with the following staff: house detective, Carl Johnson; house secretary, Edwina Neal; barber, Joseph Migliore; manicurist, Betty Steele; hairdresser, Joyce Clemons; and Warren Cooke, the chef. The paintings in the lobby were designed by Miriam Brandt. One of the unique features is the television studio with its hostess, Barbara Sheldon.

The famous Beebe Night Club has become the social center of Wakefield, with Catherine and Claire Shanahan as dual hostesses. Leading features are Zeke Shea as gigilo, and the Brown-Eaton dance team. The dignified head waiter is Ernest Flannigan; and the music is furnished nightly by Rudy Gerry's popular orchestra, composed of John Buckle, manager of the drums; George Robinson and Joseph Guinta, scraping the violins; John Sawin, with wonderful control over the slide trombone; Wallace Chesley, playing the trumpet; Mabel Anderson at the piano; and Marjorie Messer still performing on her sax. Robert King's hits from his latest popular show are in constant demand.

Oh, here is Clare White's name. She has made a great success with her White's White Laundry, where white clothes are made whiter. And that reminds me of another prosperous Wakefield firm, the Kuklinsky Kukumber Ko., with Margaret Whitehead and Jean Wheeler as outstanding saleswomen. Also we have Dorothy Eastman general superintendent of the Eastman Kodak Company, with Wesley Mason as head chemist of the laboratory. Rena Fuller is manager of the Fuller Brush Company.

What's this! William Walkins has succeeded in establishing the Wakesaw Sanitarium with a staff of leading men and women, such as Leo

Ryan, head doctor; Muriel Cameron, head nurse; Letty Christie, Evelyn Thistle, Jennie Smith, assistants; and Doris McClintock, dietitian.

I see that Katrine Tuttle, who is the chairman of the new Sweetser Musical Series, has announced the following program for 1952:—Jan. 6: Ruth Boudreau, famous concert pianist; Jan. 26: Eleanor Daland, the golden-throated soprano; Feb. 10: Warren Farrell, America's Harmonica Harmonizer.

Why here's Effie Hoag who has charge of the Beebe Library Building in Greenwood, with Margaret Murphy and Dorothy Saunders as assistants. Charles O'Connell, captain of the Greenwood Police Station, has appointed Esther Peterson as policewoman of the new library.

Kenneth Worthen, I notice, is the owner of the Worthen Golf Course in Lynnfield. He has as his pro, Gordon Tuttle; and as caddies: Margaret Fitz, Eleanor Glover, Madeline Howe, and Mary Granese.

Al Smith is still running for the presidency. Oh, that is Alson Smith of Wakefield, who is the candidate for the Democrats against Edward Dinan, who is a Progressive.

Here's Purdy's name, founder of the Purdy School of Physical Education. On the faculty we see Eleanor Collins, Priscilla Lamprey, and Dorothy Curtis. By the way, Catherine Lawless is the founder of another school, the Lawless Institute of Law. Mary Hurton, Eunice Pelley and David MacLeod are among the instructors.

Bert Barry! Hurrah for Bert, the second Babe Ruth! And, say! Daniel Burbine, the successor of Henri Diglane, has wrestled the title from Lester Welford.

Turning from sports to society, we find that Margaret Rogers is now the wife of the ambassador to the court of St. James. Byron Stokes and Dorothy Petersen, as Romeo and Juliet, are just concluding a six months run on Broadway.

Dorothy Clark is carrying on the valuable work of Dorothy Dix in giving her splendid advice to the love-lorn, and Richard Muse is following in the footsteps of Walter Winchell in his gossip of Broadway.

Here's Brenda Wells! She is enjoying her fourth and latest breach of promise suit. It grieves us to see Miss Wells again mistreated by a cruel and heartless man. Her attorney is George Simpson, New York's leading heart-break lawyer, and the judge for the case is His Honor, Stephen Brennan. The jury, a notable one, composed of Mary McManamin, Dorothy Doucette, Mary Sheridan, Helen Kirmes, Ellen Slattery, Alta Pinto, Ruth Dodge, Cora Seavy, Virginia Lee, Charlotte Holt, Caroline Scott, and Arthur Hampton, rendered the decision eleven to one against Miss Wells.

The Peterson Perfect Pictures, with Gardner Peterson as president, has just released "Beauty and the Beast", starring Gertrude Vandenburg and Stanley Dearborn. The villain of this picture is William Schwarz, with Mary Griffiths as comedienne. Others prominent in the movie world are Mamie DeFelice, the second Dolores Del Rio, and Ruth L. Griffin, the Jean Harlow of 1952. Mario Ferrar is following in the footsteps of John Barrymore, and Mary Le Blanc is the present-day Irene Bordoni of movie and radio fame. And Elizabeth Chartier is starring in the Leroy Rendall's comedies.

Paul Lazzaro's expedition has just left for darkest Africa in search of the "Lost Chord". Geraldine Lovering has been chosen the photographer and Ruth Assenza, Elnah Beyea, Vera Blaisdell, Grace Russell, and Catherine Cotter have been allowed to join it.

What's this? Carrie Findlay is president of Wellesley; Thelma Hanright is secretary; and Ann Hennessey, dean. Others on the faculty are Virginia Woodbury, instructor of music; Helen Greany, track coach; and Ruth Reams, in charge of public speaking and singing. Verna Jenkins, connected with the college, is endeavoring to cross a prune with a lemon.

Oh yes! And finally, here's Ruth Whitten trying to win the bathing beauty contest at Saugus' water front, with George Wengen and Leonard Kallenburg also in the race!

You've heard the deeds of '32,
Found in the pages of Who's Who,
Appearing in 1952.
We hope the future pleases you.
We've tried to paint it bright but true,
With scarce a cloud in skies of blue.
We bid you now a fond adieu,
And wish a lot of luck to you.
Goodbye, Godspeed to '32.

History of the Class of 1932

THE most enjoyable day of our freshman year was the first day, September 9, 1928. The upper classmen were not there so we reigned supreme. Those who had come from the Lafayette School had some experience in the routine which would be used at the high school and were less nervous. But our friends from Greenwood and Lynnfield had a more difficult task to face.

The difficulty, however, was readily overcome by all and, our bewilderment over, we soon became accustomed to our environment. We worked in close co-operation with our classmates from Greenwood and Lynnfield and our efforts soon bore fruit.

The freshman class was fortunate in having good athletes. It was ably represented in track, basketball, baseball and football. The boys, by their hard work and determination to represent their class favorably, were molded into fine players and soon won recognition in their respective teams. We took an important part in the skirmish with the sophomores in the inter-class meet, David Dellinger running the mile and the half mile, John Dinan the quarter, and Edward Dinan the relay.

Girls' teams also made good progress. Jean Wheeler was elected captain of the hockey team. Jeannette Gardner and Jean Wheeler were chosen as freshman members on the athletic council.

Numerous division clubs were formed. The class as a whole was well represented in the various school clubs.

Margaret Fitz was chosen to represent the freshman class on the Executive Board of the Inter Nos Club. Class leaders arose, but the real leadership of the class was to be awarded the following year.

Those who were not athletically inclined as well as those who were, made outstanding records in their studies. From a class of 283, 266 came out at the end of the year with flying colors, ready to become sophomores.

SOPHOMORE

Ah, with what relief we threw down our title of freshmen to the incoming class, and arose to accept the honor of being called sophomores. We thought our importance equalled that of the seniors; but now that we have had that pleasure of superiority, we have discovered that the importance of three years ago was merely imaginary.

The class, as an organized body of pupils, came into being the first week in November. We felt very important to have elections of our own. Our class officers were: President, William Sparkes; Vice-President, Marcus Beebe; Secretary, Eleanor Glover; Treasurer, Margaret Fitz.

The officers were introduced to active duty on March fourth, when we held our first class meeting. President Sparkes chose two members from each sophomore home room to constitute the color and motto committees. The members of the color committee were: Mamie DeFelice, Emma Price, Marjorie Messer, Lionel Chaulk, Donald Duley, Casimir Kuklinsky, Richard Pyburn. Orchid and silver were the colors chosen. The members of the motto committee: Thelma Gill, Effie Hoag, Alda Pinto, Mary Sheridan, Mario Ferrara, Lewis Millet, Richard Meuse, Guy Pasqualino. The motto selected was "Forward ever, backward never."

Our class was well represented in athletic circles. Leon Dulong, Daniel Burbine, James O'Keefe, Frank Mugford, and Robert Curley became heroes in our eyes, a position which they have made more secure in the last two years by their work on the varsity gridiron. We should not forget William Sparkes, Edward Dinan, and Zenas Bliss who followed closely behind them. A feather in the caps of the sophomores was the fact that Leon Dulong was made captain-elect for the next year's football team.

Hockey was revived that winter. Robert Purdy and Robert Shea upheld the class reputation by their playing.

Bert Barry, William Sparkes, Richard Curley, Daniel Burbine, Wesley Ball, Frank Mugford and Robert Shea became closely affiliated with baseball activities.

The girls proved that they also were of an athletic mind. Each sport had a team composed of the members of the sophomore class. The captains were: hockey, Dorothy Peterson; baseball, Eleanor Daland; basketball and track, Ruth L. Griffin.

The Masque Club honored us by selecting two of the new members, Beatrice Packard and James O'Keefe, to participate in the plays produced that season.

The pleasing voices of William Schwarz, Kenneth Worthen, and Emil Apenes were heard frequently in the Boys' Glee Club.

Margaret Fitz was elected treasurer of the Inter Nos Club and managed the finances of the club in an able manner.

In spite of the fact that we had found our sophomore year very interesting we were happy, when June came, to discard the title of sophomore and to be jolly juniors.

JUNIOR

Vacation passed very quickly, too quickly for some. One week after Labor Day we all trooped back to school gay, tanned, and ready for work. The class numbered exactly one hundred and ninety-nine. The first day Coach Healey started football with Leon Dulong as captain. In a few weeks regular games began, and although they did not always turn out in our favor, a number of juniors made the first team. Those who received letters were Leon Dulong, Edward Dinan, Robert Curley, James O'Keefe, Daniel Burbine, Willard Atwell, William Sparkes, Zenas Bliss, Ignazio Bonfanti, Samuel Crosby, Paul Lazzaro, Frank Mugford, and Guy Pasqualino. George Tucker was the outstanding track star.

The girls were busy each afternoon playing field-hockey. The junior team, led by Dorothy Peterson, came through with flying colors.

Early in October the following class officers were elected: President, Kenneth Worthen; Vice-President, Frank Mugford; Secretary, Lillian Gill; Treasurer, Carrie Findlay. Then came the Junior Prom—the finest Prom ever. The gym was decorated with the class colors, orchid and silver; and McPartland's Orchestra kept everybody gay until 12 o'clock. During intermission some of the school's best dancers bowed low to the tune of the Minuet.

Everybody, boys and girls, had a chance to play basketball when winter came. ~~The girls' junior team placed second, while the boys' junior team won the cup.~~ On the varsity squad Daniel Burbine was the only junior to get a letter. Marcus Beebe and Zenas Bliss received numerals.

The following members of our class were elected to office in the Inter Nos Club: Vice-President, Margaret Fitz; Treasurer, Eleanor Foster; Board of Directors, Margaret Rogers and Jean Wheeler.

The senior staff of the Booster was replaced by the junior staff the last of March. Morris Miller was elected editor-in-chief with sub-editors Miriam Brandt, James Cotter, Doris McClintock, Sally Parker, Robert Purdy, Gordon Tuttle, William Walkins, Ruth Whitten, Wilhelm Erikson and Robert Shea.

The sudden death of Mrs. Guillow, our friend and teacher, on April 1st cast a shadow of gloom over the school for many a day, and her loss was keenly felt.

The warm, balmy days of Spring rolled around before we knew it. Baseball, track, and tennis teams were chosen, and the juniors made up a large part of each team. Junior boys receiving letters in baseball were: Bert Barry, Robert Curley, William Sparkes, and Daniel Burbine. The boys receiving track letters were: Edward Lally, David Dellinger, Robert Purdy and Paul Lazzaro.

The Glee Club concert was held on February 20; the Masque Club plays April 24 and 25, and the Orchestra gave its concert May 8. While these events were not junior class events, many of our classmates took part in them. The R. O. T. C. prize drill was held June 6. Results of the prize drill meant promotion of many juniors to battalion officers.

Our days from then on were numbered and vacation couldn't come soon enough. On June 27 the school doors closed for the summer and "Happy Days Were Here Again."

SENIOR

Our senior year is almost over. It has been probably the most important and busiest year of our young lives. It is hard to realize that we will not be coming back to Wakefield High School next year. Old friends will be parted, some going into the business world, and some going to college. In either case, new friends will be made and new associations formed; but I doubt if anyone will, or can forget, the good old days when we were just a lot of high school boys and girls.

Our class officers this year were as follows:

President, William Bliss; Vice-President, George Wengen; Secretary, Margaret Fitz, and Treasurer, Katrine Tuttle.

Our activities were limited on account of the two-session plan which was necessitated by lack of room. The three upper classes attended school in the morning from 8 to 12.50 o'clock, and the freshmen and eighth graders came in the afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock. For this reason, we were forced to give up the public speaking classes, and the Inter Nos Club as an active organization.

Our football season was one of the most successful in many years. The class of '33 will have to work hard to come anywhere near the example set for them by this year's team. The senior boys who received letters were: Daniel Burbine, Leon Dulong, Captain; James O'Keefe, Zenas Bliss, Paul Lazzaro, Edward Dinan, Frank Mugford, William Sparkes, Robert Curley and Robert Purdy.

Basketball letter men this year were Daniel Burbine, Marcus Beebe, David Dellinger, Paul Lazzaro, Zenas Bliss, and John Buckle, manager. The girls were represented in basketball by: Alice Clark, Eleanor Glover, Margaret Fitz, Ruth L. Griffin, Charlotte Holt, Madeline Howe, Beatrice Packard, Dorothy Peterson, Gertrude Vandenberg, Ruth Whitten, Ruth Assenza, Katrine Tuttle, Mary LeBlanc, Eleanor Daland, Captain. The girls also started bowling at the "Y" late in the year. This was in the nature of an experiment, and no letters or numerals were given.

The Senior Play, "Summer is A'Comin In," was given on November 24 and 25 with a different cast each night. Those taking part in the play were: David Dellinger, John Buckle, George Wengen, George Robinson, Gardner Peterson, Beatrice Packard, Mary Griffiths, Margaret Rogers, Eleanor Glover, Barbara Sheldon, Jean Wheeler, Donald Huff, Leroy Rendall, James O'Keefe, Edward Lally, Roger Gerry, Elizabeth Callbeck, Katherine Winkler, Margaret Fitz, Jeannette Gardner, Edwina Neal, Irene Beard.

The Inter Nos girls and Hi-Y boys gave a play called "Tweedles" on April 1. This is the first time the two clubs have combined, and if the success of their first effort is any sign, they will probably continue this practice in the future. Both plays were under the able direction of Miss A. True Hardy, of the faculty.

Our main social function, the Senior Party, was held on February 5, 1932. The success of the party was due to President Bliss and his committee—Maybelle Anderson, Ruth Boudreau, Alice Clark, Joyce Clemons, Thelma Hanright, Priscilla Lamprey, Grace Russell, Margaret Whitehead, Ruth Whitten, Virginia Woodbury, James Cotter, Maxwell Eaton, Carl Johnson, Robert King, Wesley Mason, James O'Keefe, Thomas Parsons, Leo Ryan, William Sparkes, and Kenneth Worthen.

The baseball team had a good season, with William Sparkes, Daniel Burbine, Captain Robert Curley, Manager Zenas Bliss, and Edward Dinan adding to their glory as all-round athletes.

The High School Orchestra had a very successful season. The W. H. S. Boys' Band under the direction of Mr. Fanck, wound up its season with a concert and dance held at the Lynnfield Center Town Hall on April 8.

As usual, the officers of the battalion, William Bliss, Morris Miller, Willard Atwell, Lloyd Shea, Gardner Peterson, and Sam Crosby, kept the boys happy, contented, and obedient, by their soft and gentle words. It is always an inspiring sight to see a battalion of boys marching over the athletic field.

This year there was quite a controversy as to whether we should have a year book. We finally decided on a year book instead of the regular graduation pictures. The year book staff is as follows:

Editor-in-Chief—Jean Wheeler.

Business Manager—James O'Keefe.

Assistant Business Manager—Wilhelm Erikson.

Literary Editors—Alson Smith, Chairman; Marcus Beebe, Eleanor Glover, Mary Granese, Miriam Brandt, Madeline Howe, Beatrice Packard.

Committee: Donald Huff, Marjorie Messer, Kenneth Worthen, Emanuel D'Ambrosio, John Confalone, Lloyd Shea, Alfred Ghibellini, Eleanor Daland, Ruth Dodge.

In a few days we shall be graduated from the Wakefield High School, and as we stand on the threshold of life, let us keep before us our class motto, "FORWARD EVER, BACKWARD NEVER."

CLASS STATISTICS

Most Conscientious	Barbara Sheldon
Most Original	Leroy Rendall
Most Courteous	George Wengen
Most Likely to Succeed	Morris Miller
Class Shark	Mary Granese
Class Grind	Eleanor Glover
Most Bashful	John Roberts
Class Cut-Up	Wilhelm Erikson
Class Flirt	Gertrude Vandenberg
Class Giggler	Margaret Fitz
Jolliest Boy	Roger Gerry
Prettiest Girl	Beatrice Packard
Most Attractive Boy	Robert Purdy
Class Actress	Jean Wheeler
Class Actor	Leroy Rendall
Most Dignified Girl	Margaret Whitehead
Most Dignified Boy	Robert Purdy
Most Athletic Girl	Ruth Griffin
Most Athletic Boy	Daniel Burbine
Most Fashionable Girl	Katrine Tuttle
Class Dude	Wallace Chesley
Most Popular Girl	Margaret Fitz
Most Popular Boy	William Bliss
Class Orator	John Dinan
Class Diplomat	William Bliss
Class Bluffer	James O'Keefe
Junior Girl Most Popular with the Senior Class	Jean Macdonald
Junior Boy Most Popular with the Senior Class	Walter Comee

WE wish to acknowledge the financial aid given to us by our advertisers. Without this aid it would have been impossible to have published The Mercury.

JAMES O'KEEFE,
Business Manager

WILHELM ERIKSON,
Advertising Manager

Compliments of
A. G. Walton

Compliments of
EDWARD B. KELLY
Insurance

G. W. BEASLEY
Glassware
Kitchen Goods
Toys Stationery
Confectionery
Paints Varnishes
88 NORTH AVE.
Wakefield

CURLEY BROS.
Try a Ton of Curley's
Coal and Notice the Difference
Crystal 0159

Ladies' & Gents' Tailors and Furriers
Cleansers & Dyers
Tel. Cry. 1240

Blue Serge Suits
White Flannel Pants
CONNELLY'S
PEOPLE'S CLOTHING STORE

Compliments of Fuel With Service
THOMAS HICKEY
Coal - Oil - Coke

Compliments of GREENWOOD PHARMACY
A. I. Reynolds,
Reg. Pharmacist
781 MAIN ST.
Greenwood Mass.

PAINE'S, INC.
Quality Dry Goods
464 MAIN ST.
Wakefield Mass.

WAKEFIELD
MILLING CO.
Frames & Windows
Doors
Interior Finish
Crystal 0134

Compliments of
WAKEFIELD
THEATRE

Compliments of
BOWSER & CO.
Dry Goods
Wakefield Mass.

Compliments of
F. W. WOOLWORTH

In the long run

you and your friends will prize the portrait that looks like you—your truest self, free from stage effects and little conceits.

It is in this “Long Run” photography that PURDY success has been won. Portraiture by the camera that one cannot laugh or cry over in later years.

For present pleasure and future pride, protect your photographic self by having Purdy make the portraits.

∴ PURDY ∴

Official Photographer of Wakefield High School for the Past Ten Years

160 TREMONT ST.

BOSTON

Compliments of

Smith's Drug Store

The Rexall Store

438 Main Street

Wakefield

BOURDON STUDIO

All Kinds of Photography and Picture Framing

1 ALBION STREET

Wakefield

Mass.

Compliments of

C. W. SPEAR

MILLY'S

Bring the Boy and Girl Friend in for a

Hot Fudge Sundae, 15c or

Banana Royal (Our Style), 20c

Let Milly Furnish the Refreshments for your Party

Willhelmina Smart Shop, Inc.

Gowns

Hats

Compliments of

BILL LINDSAY'S
SHOE STORE

63 Albion St.

Wakefield

Mass.

Compliments of

A FRIEND

Candy

Ice Cream

COLONIAL SPA

Home Made Candy and Ice Cream

Big Variety of Sweets

Magazines

Cigars

Lumber

Beam Poles

Fence Pickets

Long Bell Oak Flooring

Rex Flintkote Shingles

W. E. KNOX

Main St.

Tel. 0623

Compliments of

RAY McPARTLAND'S
ORCHESTRA

Wakefield

Compliments of

A SENIOR

D. & L. Slade Company
BOSTON, MASS.

Spices and Specialties

Purveyors to her majesty the American housewife for over one hundred years

I. MILLER and SONS
Furriers Tailors
104 North Ave Cry. 0935
Satisfaction Guaranteed by the House of Friendly Service

ABE FINE
Shoe Repairing
MAIN ST.
Opp. Library Wakefield

Compliments of
A FRIEND

Goodyear Shoe Repairs
While You Wait
JAMES TECCE, Prop.
131 ALBION STREET

Compliments of BELLEVUE SHOP
Millinery Dresses
ALBION STREET

GRATTAN BAKING CO.
Catering for All Occasions
Anywhere Anytime
FOOD SHOPPE
57 Albion St.
Wakefield Mass.

J. WALLACE GRACE
Hardware
Garden Supplies
Paints, Oils, Varnish
Heating Plumbing
Tel. Crystal 0063

Compliments of
A FRIEND

Compliments of
A FRIEND

Compliments of
CHARLES MARTIN
The Bicycle Man
101 ALBION ST.
Wakefield Mass.

Compliments of
JOHN STRINGER

For the Best Footwear and Gentlemen's Furnishings go to the
ELITE QUALITY SHOP
442 Main St.
Cor. Mechanic St.

Compliments of Wakefield Laundry
LINCOLN ST.
Wakefield, Mass.

DODGE and PLYMOUTH
MOTOR CARS
Classen's Garage
MAIN STREET
Greenwood, Mass.

Compliments of
A. Granese

Boothby's
Ladies' and Children's Furnishings
DRY GOODS
434 Main Street
Wakefield Mass.

Compliments of Junction Market
 Wakefield, Mass.

When Purchasing an Oil Burner for Your Kitchen Range

insist on a

“HANSON-GATES”

This Burner is manufactured in your own town, is a quality product, sold direct from factory to you. Installed by the man who built it.

Sold On a Money Back Guarantee

A Custom Built Burner

Priced from $29.75 to $47.50

Terms to Responsible People

Hanson-Gates Co., Inc.

528 Main St.

Wakefield

Compliments of
GEORGE REID
 NORTH AVE.
 Wakefield Mass.

92 NORTH AVENUE

Compliments of WILKINSON'S
 94 North Ave.

Compliments of
CRYSTAL TAXI
 Tel. Cry. 1111

Compliments of
A. W. GREER
 ALBION ST.

Compliments of HAGER'S

WAKEFIELD
FISH MARKET
Mechanic Street

Compliments of
C. W. GOULD

Compliments of McMASTER'S

BLANCHARD
AWNING CO.
Wakefield Mass.

Costumes & Wigs for All Occasions for Rental
HAYDEN COSTUME
CO.
786 Washington St. and 6 Boylston St., Boston

BEN BUCKLE
and New England's Best Dance Orch.
BEN BUCKLE, 1 Hillside Ave.
Wakefield
Tel. 1431-J

Compliments of
KELSO NECKWEAR
Theatre Bldg.
Wakefield Mass.

Compliments of
SAD SYNCOPATORS

Flowers for Every Purse and Purpose
A. S. PARKER
395 MAIN ST.
Wakefield Mass.

Compliments of
WILLIAM R. DRUGAN
Attorney-at-Law
461 MAIN ST.
Wakefield

Compliments of
DR. JOHN E. DRUGAN

Compliments of
DR. PHILLIP L.
McAULIFFE

Bart J. Dowd

"Craftsman In Metal"

Medals, Trophies, Charms and Class Rings

Boston Office:

80 Federal St., Room 721

Phone Liberty 7678

Compliments of

P. C. Hicks

CATERERS

17 Market Sq., West Lynn

Phone Breakers 2552

Compliments of

E. R. Moore Co.

Compliments of

Taylor's Hardware Store

Est. 1883

DEALERS IN

Hardware — Cutlery

Paints — Varnishes

Sporting Goods and Kitchenware

Plumbing, Heating, Locksmiths

The recollection of quality remains long after the price is forgotten

Crystal 0018

Main Street

Compliments of

Crystal Crispette Company

516 Main Street

WAKEFIELD, MASS.

AMERICAN GASOLINE & OIL CO.

General Offices . 564 Main Street

WAKEFIELD

AMoGAS customers are satisfied customers.
Always a little something extra in the service and the merchandise—a 37-year-old policy with us.

FUEL OIL FURNACE OIL RANGE OIL

DISTRIBUTORS OF
Kleen-Heet
OIL BURNERS

Established 1895

Phones CRYstal 1126 & 1338

THE CRYSTAL STATIONER

Stationery Supplies
School Kits
Autograph Books
Graduation Gifts
Writing Papers

Gifts
Novelties
Bridge Sets Camera Films
Periodicals

Games and Sporting Goods

Greeting Cards

Birthday — Illness — Sympathy — Congratulation — Anniversary — Graduation —
Gratitude — Acknowledgment — Bon Voyage — Wedding & Shower

We do Public Stenography at reduced rates
We develop and print your snapshots in 24 hours

The Whipple Travel Service

Steamship Tickets — Ocean Cruises
Conducted Tours—Independent Itineraries
Air Services — Motor Coach Trips
at Regular Advertised Rates

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rayner Whipple

111a Albion St., Wakefield

Crystal 1707

COMPLIMENTS OF

Wakefield Trust Company

Wakefield, Massachusetts

 SAVE

A BIG WORD THAT MEANS
THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SUCCESS AND FAILURE.

WAKEFIELD SAVINGS BANK

J. S. Round & Company

... Jewelers ...

734 Washington Street - Boston, Mass.

Phone: Hancock 4569

STUDENTS of the WAKEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL Who Want the Best SPORTING GOODS Should Use the

WRIGHT & DITSON SPECIALTIES

FOR SPRING and SUMMER

BASEBALL, TRACK, TENNIS and GOLF SUPPLIES

Tennis Rackets Restrung by Experts

Our Line of SPORT CLOTHING Is Carefully Selected for Smartness and Practicability

Wright & Ditson

344 Washington Street

Boston

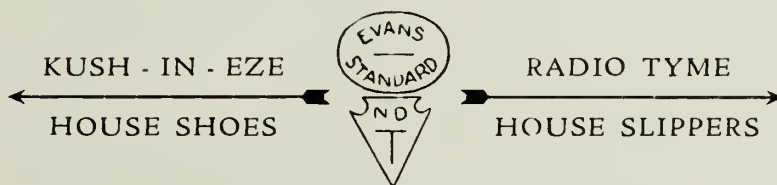

Compliments of
DR. W. H. CORCORAN

A. G. Spalding Bros.

Athletic Goods Mfrs.
WAKEFIELD
MASS.

Compliments of
DR. J. WM. O'CONNELL

L. B. EVANS' SON COMPANY

ITEM PRESS

"The Home of Friendly Service"

Printers of High School Publications for Over Half a Century

SCHOOL WORK A SPECIALTY

ITEM BUILDING

Crystal 0080

Wakefield

Engravings in This Book

By

CAMBRIDGE ENGRAVING Co.

236 BROADWAY

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

TEL. PORTER 2629

